An Invitation to Love Jesus Newsletter Messages of Love March 2023 Issue 322

Editorial

The Messages

Jesus, again, fertilizes the soil of our hearts and souls with His precious Words. He speaks to us about faith, true belief in Him; He speaks about the Journey towards Him and how there are no shortcuts in this Journey of self dying. If we try to follow Him without dying to self, we will go nowhere.

He tells us: "...My Power is bestowed on those who have believed and walk the Path of dying to self which allows Me to enter their hearts and so I will begin to minister to My children through these souls who have loved Me for My own sake.."

Thursday 9 March 2023

He needs us to take on His Words. The world needs us to begin, seriously, to take on these precious Words so that Jesus can Save many through us.

The Reward

The two Patricks have written an article called 'The Reward'. In it, they explain to us how, when we begin dying to ourselves, by dying to the things in this world that influence us away from God, we begin to see what really matters.

The Plight of Others

This month highlights the plight of those who actually turn away from a sinful life and how they are persecuted in this world.

Wisdom of John Paul II

Last month's Newsletter ended Pope John Paul II's Encyclical Letter 'The Splendour of Truth.' This month, we are starting to run his Apostolic Letter 'Novo Millennio Ineunte' which he wrote in 2000. There is a really good section on prayer within this letter. John Paul's enthusiasm over the millennium celebration, 2000 years since the Birth of Jesus, is really alive in this letter.

The Messages of Love

as given to the two Patricks

Wednesday 1 March 2023

My children, see without seeing, know without knowing, do without doing. When you see and know and do without these things, then you will be My disciple; you will be My true follower:

3 By faith we understand that the worlds were framed by the word of God, so that the things which are seen were not made of things which are visible.

Hebrews 11:3

To believe in Me is to do the things I say for you know that you cannot understand faith for the Spirit:

12 For the word of God is living and active and sharper than any two-edged sword, and piercing as far as the division of soul and spirit, of both joints and marrow, and able to judge the thoughts and intentions of the heart.

13 And there is no creature hidden from His sight, but all things are open and laid bare to the eyes of Him with whom we have to do.

Hebrews 4:12-13

I Teach you many things through My Spirit, I Teach you through My Word and, even though you see what is around you, My Spirit, in your faith in Him, tells you that these things are untrue, they are not the Truth. Your faith in Me is the channel through which My Spirit flows. If you have much faith in Me, you will see much. If your faith is only that of a frightened man, or a man that thinks only of himself, or, again, a man that is proud, you will only see what you want to see; you are blind and lead others to be blind like you.

I call you to see and know and do as I do. The world, at this time, is like the leper who is diseased. He does not see his disease and pretends he is healed. But, through My Spirit, in your faith in Him, you can see that you are diseased and in need of My healing. If you do not see this, then you are blind and pretend that you see:

35 Jesus heard that they had put him out, and finding him, He said, "Do you believe in the Son of Man?"

36 He answered, "Who is He, Lord, that I may believe in Him?"

37 Jesus said to him, "You have both seen Him, and He is the one who is talking with you."

38 And he said, "Lord, I believe." And he worshiped Him.

39 And Jesus said, "For judgment I came into this world, so that those who do not see may see, and that those who see may become blind."

40 Those of the Pharisees who were with Him heard these things and said to Him, "We are not blind too, are we?"

41 Jesus said to them, "If you were blind, you would have no sin; but since you say, 'We see,' your sin remains.

John 9:35-41

Thursday 2 March 2023

I am Coming, My children. I am Coming to cleanse this earth of the evil mankind has released through their free will. Prepare, children, the long night comes to an end and the sun will soon rise for My remnant.

Believe, children, I see all that happens and My Holy Spirit, with Justice, will reveal all that has been hidden and His Light will bring the Truth out so all can see. Little by little, the people begin to see the Truth and soon the walls of darkness will collapse and all the lies shall be seen.

You must be close to Me in this time and do not let yourselves become caught in the events that will happen.

Trust Me and prepare now.

I Love you.

Friday 3 March 2023

Believe, My little children, and do not let fear control you. I can see all that happens and, yes, I will rectify all that has been done in this time. I shall heal My Creation and all will shine with the Power of My Love, once again.

Be patient a little longer, all must be given a chance to return. I will remove the lie that surrounds this earth and all will see and they will have a final chance to return, then I will cleanse Creation of the darkness that mars it at this time.

Trust Me and prepare.

I Love you.

Friday 3 March 2023

Abide in My Truth and let yourselves go forward in the fight against self for it is only in controlling self that you can walk forward and deep into this Journey I place before you. There are no shortcuts in this Journey, self is the block that you must overcome, in your own free will, before you can move on.

Trust Me, children, the Gifts of My Spirit await all who move on in this Journey. In this time, most try to move on without first overcoming self. This is impossible for self will always get in the way of My Gifts.

Trust Me and walk this Path in Truth. The wheat grain must first die before it produces fruit. You, children, are My Army of Love that I wait on. Come, walk with Me.

I Love you.

Saturday 4 March 2023

My children, now is the time when My Love will pour freely, once again, across this earth. It is time, once again, for Me to reclaim what has been stolen through lies.

Do you think that I will allow the darkness to continue to block My Light from My people?

Trust Me, children, already, it has begun; the spark of Truth has ignited and, soon, this world will stand in awe as the Power of My Word flows out into the countries of this world.

Trust Me, children, and prepare: fight the sin in your lives and Truth shall be your reward.

Trust only in Me and believe.

Trust Me.

I Love you.

Sunday 5 March 2023

I am with you, children. I am with you when you try to follow Me in Truth. Do not say you are a follower of Mine if you do not be obedient to My Laws or, if you try to change Scripture in order to suit your sinful lifestyle.

Be in Truth and do not blind yourselves for you will only land in hell through your blindness.

Trust Me and be obedient.

Trust Me.

I Love you.

Wednesday 8 March 2023

Believe, children of Mine, and do not let fear control you. Love Me for My own sake and not for what you can gain. Trust only in Me, your God, and believe.

I Love you.

Wednesday 8 March 2023

My children, your King, your Lord, your God, approaches and you are not prepared. Wake up, My children, and see the Truth of what is happening. The peoples of this world have fallen into deep sin; they have allowed themselves to be blinded by the lies of lucifer. Come, now, before it is too late and prepare. I am Coming to destroy the darkness and you, children, must be sure that you are not a part of the darkness that I Come to destroy.

Prepare, now, children, prepare.

I Love you.

Thursday 9 March 2023

My children, I am with you, I will not leave you. Simply trust in Me, your God. I am a God of Love; a God of Power and this world is about to experience that Power through those of faith.

It is time to begin to change the way this world sees Me. All have forgotten who I really am. lucifer has blinded this world with his lies and so all have forgotten Me but, it is time to show this people the Truth of what they have become.

My Power is bestowed on those who have believed and walk the Path of dying to self which allows Me to enter their hearts and so I will begin to minister to My children through these souls who have loved Me for My own sake.

Trust Me and prepare.

I Love you.

Friday 10 March 2023

Trust only in Me, your God, and see what I say in these Words. I give you the key of how to release My Power back into this world. It is dying to self. Self is the block that stops My Light from flowing into your souls.

Self allows the darkness to block My Light from entering.

Self gives in to sin and so you never progress.

Remove the self and you remove the sin and then you may ask anything in My Name and it will be granted to the Glory of Our Father in Heaven. Come walk this Path and you will see great changes.

Trust Me.

I Love you.

Saturday 11 March 2023

Children, believe in My Love for you and do not fear the events that take place in this world. My Spirit of Justice untangles the web of lies and more and more Truth is being seen in this world. Children, it is vital that you stay close to Me and prepare for the events that are about to take place in this world. The more you prepare, by dying to self, the more you will understand and remain safe.

Do not let your sin blind you. Get rid of it now, so that you may see.

Trust Me.

I Love you.

Saturday 11 March 2023

I am Coming, My children, and so few are prepared. Prepare, now, and know the Peace that surpasses all understanding when you see Me in the clouds surrounded by My Angels.

Prepare, children, there is little time left. This world's time of disobedience, the time when mankind allowed lucifer the freedom to destroy, comes to an end and you are not ready.

I have Warned you, through My Mother, all over this world and still you do not listen.

Trust Me, now, and prepare: remove the sin from your lives and know Peace.

Trust Me.

I Love you.

Sunday 12 March 2023

My children, believe I am calling you to believe before it is too late. I call all My children every day to believe but few listen to My calls. I will punish this generation for what they have done.

I will guide My remnant through this time. It is time to decide if you are a part of My remnant or not: the decision is yours.

Trust Me.

I Love you.

Monday 13 March 2023

My children, know I am with you. Know I have not forgotten My many Promises not to forsake you. Trust Me, children of Mine, and know I am the Truth and all the Words I have given you will come to pass.

Trust only in Me and believe. It has begun: the Justice of your God walks the earth and the Truth will be seen.

Prepare.
I Love you.

Tuesday 14 March 2023

My children, many Words I have spoken to guide you upon the Path of Truth. So few have taken on My Words for the call of this world is loud. So many try to live My Words but also live in the ways of the world.

Children, clean and dirty water cannot run from the same pipe for the dirty water will pollute the clean. The results of this you can see within My Church. Trust Me, children, and fight the desires of self and you will overcome the way of sin.

Trust Me.
I Love you.

Wednesday 15 March 2023

I have come in these Words to protect you, My people, from the darkness that now controls this world. I have Warned you that mankind would allow the darkness in through their lust and greed and now, it is upon you.

I also Warned you what would be the consequences of your actions. A great punishment, a chastisement, that this earth has not ever seen from the beginning of time. I will give all a chance to repent and return to Me. If mankind does not return, I will be forced to punish this world for its sins for they are many and great. Listen, children, for the Time of My Justice is upon you and the Truth is beginning to seep out, so few are prepared. Make haste for already it is too late for many.

Believe, children, and prepare.
I Love you.

Thursday 16 March 2023

My children, believe in the Words I give for so few have taken on My Words in this time. My remnant are so few compared to the population of this world, they are but a trickle. This world does not realise what it has done; the peoples of this world have rejected Me, their God, and now must undergo the consequences of their actions.

You do not realise, children, that this world is spirit and your sin has unforeseen consequences. At this time, the sins of mankind block the Light of their God from entering this world and so this world rebels, it calls to Me for Justice.

Creation sees the darkness and knows it is dying because of man's sin. You do not know what you have done by using the blood of the innocent to try and prolong your lives. You have called down the Justice of your God, the consequences of your actions are grave.

Turn away from your sin, children, and enter the protection of your God. The darkness of this world shall be cleansed, nothing of darkness or no one of darkness shall survive.

The decision is yours, children. I will not force you to believe these Words of Mine but read the signs of your times against what has already been written in My Scriptures. It is plain to be seen for those that have eyes to see. You are being Warned; these are your last Warnings.

Prepare for already it is too late for many.

I Love you.

Friday 17 March 2023 Feast of Saint Patrick

My children, I, your God, am with you. I call you to look at the Truth of what is happening in this world around you. The rich are getting richer, as they spin ever more lies and the poor are getting poorer as they believe the lies of the rich and get themselves into ever more debt and so can be easily controlled by the rich and the powerful.

Wake up, My children, look at your lives; your time is consumed by the things of this world and so you have no time left for Me, your God. lucifer is in control of this world through you, the people of free will. You listen to his lies and believe them; you listen to the lies being promoted through your televisions and your internet. These were lucifer's gifts to mankind, given in order to destroy My Truth and Me, your God.

Look around you: has his plans not worked? Mankind has turned against Me, their God. You have been tested and found wanting. I give you a choice: continue to follow the lies of lucifer or follow Me. If you follow Me in Truth, I will guide you out of the danger lucifer has planned for you. If you follow lucifer's lies then you will die, both physically and spiritually, for he plans to destroy all life and this you have already given him. The plague of death has already begun.

Prepare.

I Love you.

Saturday 18 March 2023

In faith, I am to be found, children of Mine. Faith is simply knowing. When you know something has happened or you know you have something in your hand, this is belief, knowing, faith. So, to have faith in Me, simply know I will do as you ask, this is asking in faith.

First, children, you must walk the Path of dying to self for self is the part of you that will tear your faith in Me away. Self only wants the things of this earth. Self will walk the path of sin in order to gain what it desires. This is why you must die to self, so your faith in Me may grow. The more you control self, the more your faith will grow.

Trust Me, children, and come walk this Path of Faith with Me and you will begin to see the wonders of your God.

Trust Me.

I Love you.

Monday 20 March 2023 Feast of Saint Joseph

My children, I Love you. Children, your sin blocks Me from you when it is unrepented sin but, if you are willing to repent of your sin, then I can cleanse it. My children, learn from your sin for it can help you to avoid falling into further sin by seeing how you fell before and so you will know how to avoid future occasions of sin.

Use your experiences to help you live better lives. Be sure, children, when you go to Confessions to accept My Forgiveness. So many do not see that I Died for their sin and so the Price has been Paid.

Believe, children, and trust in Me. Remember, I will not cast you away if you want to enter Heaven. If you are willing to repent, be sorry for your sin, I will not reject you. I will not turn away from you. I am your Father; I am a God of Love, God of Truth and only Truth can enter My Kingdom.

Trust Me, children.

I Love you.

Tuesday 21 March 2023

My children, My Love for you is great and I will free you from the web of lies created by those who have given themselves over to the will of lucifer. I will cleanse this earth of what has been given to lucifer in man's free will. This generation has given so much over to evil through greed and lust for power.

Now, the consequences are plain to be seen, all over this earth, as mankind gives himself over to sin in his free will. It will come to an end. You have silenced your God and My people long enough now, is the time I will give My people a voice, once again, and this earth will tremble as it sees what it has done. Now, is the time that you must prepare and decide what side you want to be on. The decision is yours, children.

Prepare.

I Love you.

Wednesday 22 March 2023

Look always to My Truth when you make your day to day decisions so that you do not blind yourselves to sin. Sin is what blocks you from My Light and sin is what leads you on a path to hell.

Trust Me, children, and believe in My Words.

Trust Me.

I Love you.

Thursday 23 March 2023

My children, believe in My Words of Life, they are given to mankind through My Love. I have given many Words, all over this world, through My Mother and through My Prophets. These Words are given to guide My people back from the danger they have placed themselves in through listening to the lies of those who have given themselves over to lucifer, through their evil actions.

Now, children, you must decide to change your lives or not. You have all but run out of time. I have told you: the Time of My Justice has begun and the Will of your God, the Holy Spirit, will rectify what has been done in man's free will. He shall cleanse this earth of the great lie that has blinded man. The lie that I, your God, do not exist and so, My Laws, My Truth do not matter and so man is free to break the Law of God, that does not exist.

Children, you cannot stand against the Will of the Father. You say you have free will to decide this, you have but, you force others to believe what you believe. You force others to believe there is nothing wrong with sin.

I Come to rectify this.

I Come to destroy the evil mankind has released in free will.

I Come to renew My Creation.

Yes, children, I created all that you see. I even created a history in the rocks of this earth and the universe so that man would have a choice to believe science or My Scriptures and, as you see, you have listened to science and the lies of lucifer. You have become an evil generation. Love has grown cold now, it is time to change.

I Come.

Trust Me.

I Love you.

Sunday 26 March 2023

Believe in Me, children of Mine, and do not give up hope in Me, your God. I am with you and I will fulfil all My Words I have given to you through Myself and My Mother.

Believe, children of Mine, I will put a stop to the evil of this generation. I will show the Truth of what has been happening and how lucifer has fooled the scientists of this world. Those who work in secret, think they know the Truth and that they hide it away from the rest of the world but they are blind and are only listening to and looking at the science that lucifer gives to them.

You think you know the Truth of the universe but you do not; you have accepted the lies that lucifer has given to you. The technology that you think you have gained is lucifer's gift to you and you have accepted it and now are nothing but his puppets. I will show you the Truth of where your technology comes from.

Prepare, the Truth is among you and He will show all the peoples what is really happening on this earth.

Prepare.

I Love you.

Monday 27 March 2023

My children, My Love for you is great, this is why I must cleanse the evil that lucifer has given to you. Your scientists are about to destroy themselves and My Creation using discoveries that lucifer has provided them with.

Technology that is far beyond the understanding of the people of today. lucifer is a liar and he only wishes to destroy what I have created in Love. My children, I must intervene before it is too late. Trust Me, children, and I will show all the Truth and the demons will be shown in their true light. Prepare, children, for the only people who will be left are those who have listened and prepared.

I will give all a chance. Then My remnant will see the true beauty of My Creation as I return all to the Truth.

Trust Me and prepare.

I Love you.

Tuesday 28 March 2023

Look at My Words, children, look at how many Words I have given to you to guide you through this time that you now live in. Do not think that I have forgotten you.

Do not think that I have deserted you for all these Words that I have given will be fulfilled. The time is close and so few have prepared to become labourers in the vineyard of My Love. I call, once again, for you to prepare. Die to self, My children: reject the sin in your life and come, follow Me in Truth and I will show you the wonders of your God.

Trust Me and prepare.

I Love you.

Writing from the two Patricks

THE REWARD

The Reward

We live in a world of influence. A world where we are influenced by the things of the world that are flashed in our faces, a world that glitters with "fools' gold". We see things that will make our lives easier: a new house will make it easier; a big TV will make it easier; a new car will make it easier; the right shampoo will make it easier. The list is endless, bottomless and we are lost in the choice. Our lives are easier.

This might be fine if this world was different from what it is. If it was a magical world that makes life easier, with no consequences, we could live any way we wanted. We all try to live the "high life" in our own different ways saying we deserve to have our big houses, our big cars, the right shampoo. I deserve it! These things have become the model for a perfect life, a real life. If we don't have these things then we are not living at all. We justify ourselves that we need these things, that we have a right to have them. But look at what Jesus said:

19 "Now there was a rich man, and he habitually dressed in purple and fine linen, joyously living in splendour every day.

20 "And a poor man named Lazarus was laid at his gate, covered with sores, 21 and longing to be fed with the crumbs which were falling from the rich man's table; besides, even the dogs were coming and licking his sores.

22 "Now the poor man died and was carried away by the angels to Abraham's bosom; and the rich man also died and was buried.

23 "In Hades he lifted up his eyes, being in torment, and saw Abraham far away and Lazarus in his bosom.

24 "And he cried out and said, 'Father Abraham, have mercy on me, and send Lazarus so that he may dip the tip of his finger in water and cool off my tongue, for I am in agony in this flame.'

25 "But Abraham said, 'Child, remember that during your life you received your good things, and likewise Lazarus bad things; but now he is being comforted here, and you are in agony.'

26 'And besides all this, between us and you there is a great chasm fixed, so that those who wish to come over from here to you will not be able, and that none may cross over from there to us.'

27 "And he said, 'Then I beg you, father, that you send him to my father's house —

28 for I have five brothers — in order that he may warn them, so that they will not also come to this place of torment.'

29 "But Abraham said, 'They have Moses and the Prophets; let them hear them.'

30 "But he said, 'No, father Abraham, but if someone goes to them from the dead, they will repent!'

31 "But he said to him, 'If they do not listen to Moses and the Prophets, they will not be persuaded even if someone rises from the dead.'

Luke 16:19-31

There it is! There is the crux of it! This parable tells us the kind of world that we live in.

The rich man was living in luxury, he could only see his purple and fine linen, he was blinded by them, lost in a world of his own making. It seems he was so blinded by these things, so justified by self, that he could not comprehend that a few crumbs falling from his table could feed the poor man. The crumbs would be eaten by the dogs anyway or they would have been brushed away. This speaks to me of the rich man's blindness, that even the crumbs might have helped, not only the poor man but in the reward he could have received from God, if things had been different. If we are blinded by the things, we think we deserve, if self blinds us to the needs of others by justifying our great need of having these things, then how can we see what Jesus is saying to us? Do we justify ourselves by convincing ourselves of our need of the right shampoo and not see the poor man sitting at our door? Maybe the rich man even justified to himself that God allowed him to do these things. The answer to that lies in these Words of Jesus:

1 "Take heed that you do not do your charitable deeds before men, to be seen by them. Otherwise, you have no reward from your Father in heaven.

2 Therefore, when you do a charitable deed, do not sound a trumpet before you as the hypocrites do in the synagogues and in the streets, that they may have glory from men. Assuredly, I say to you, they have their reward.

3 But when you do a charitable deed, do not let your left hand know what your right hand is doing,
4 that your charitable deed may be in secret; and your Father who sees in secret will Himself reward you openly.

Matthew 6:1-4

“Assuredly, I say to you, they have their reward...” What is the reward? A new house will make it easier; a big TV will make it easier; a new car will make it easier; the right shampoo will make it easier in this life; purple and fine linen will make it easier. If we have these things in this life, then we have our reward; Heaven is gone from us. A great chasm lies before us and Heaven; we cannot get there. The rich man tried to persuade Father Abraham to send Lazarus with one drop of cold water to wet his tongue but he didn’t get it, he already had his reward, there was nothing left to be given. The rich man had run out of options.

The Words Jesus spoke in Scripture are not hard to understand and carry out: Forgive and you will be forgiven, seek and you will find. Even if the person has done the unforgivable on us, we must be prepared to forgive: “I do not say to you, up to seven times but up to seventy times seven”. Matthew 18:21-22

We think we deserve justice in this life but it is only God who is Justice. The one who wronged us deserves punishment for what he did. But, turn the accusing finger back on the self. Do I not also deserve punishment for my sins? How can I expect Gods Justice on the one who has wronged me and not expect justice to be meted out on me who has wronged others? All of us do not deserve Gods Mercy or His Forgiveness for the sins we commit, no, He gives that freely out of the Goodness of His Heart. If we are to be like Him and live His Words, we must do the same. Our reward lies in our forgiving the unforgivable and seeking, in honest prayer, where we do not try to persuade God what we deserve or even need but we take only that that He wants us to have.

“...your Father who sees what is done in secret will reward you...”

Matthew 6:4

Seek and you will find is to seek the Kingdom of Heaven through the doing without all of these things so that we are not influenced by them. If we do this, then we can be influenced by God alone. If we watch TV, we can be persuaded by the advertisements and the soaps to want better and more things.

Jesus said;

33 Sell what you have and give alms; provide yourselves money bags which do not grow old, a treasure in the heavens that does not fail, where no thief approaches nor moth destroys.

34 For where your treasure is, there your heart will be also.”

Luke 12:33-34

Obviously, the rich man’s treasure was in his purple and fine linen, it was not in the things of God. Even if Moses and the prophets were sent to him, he would not listen, even if someone rose from the dead: he would not listen. Would we listen?

We have Scripture, we have Jesus and Our Lady appearing and giving us Messages all over the world; telling us to pray more and to live better lives. We have the One who is Risen from the dead in the Blessed Sacrament. Are we persuaded by all these Heaven-given things? It seems not; we still have the same Confession list we had from years ago. If we are to change and become what God wants us to be then our sin is the place to begin. We are influenced by our sin; we like our sin and it is only when guilt sets in that we seek Forgiveness. We are not, in most cases, forced to sin; we sin because we choose to. Temptation is not a sin, only when we give in to it.

These Words of Jesus do not justify our selfish things, our persuasions that God would want us to have our “purple and fine linen”, they say the opposite. If we give up the things on this earth that we “think” we are entitled to and live our lives abiding with His Words then we are entitled to a reward: the reward of Heaven.

23 His lord said to him, 'Well done, good and faithful servant; you have been faithful over a few things, I will make you ruler over many things. Enter into the joy of your lord.'

Matthew 25:23

Maybe the rich man thought that God allowed him to have his purple and fine linen. Maybe he allowed self to persuade him that God wanted these things. This may well be so. But, was Gods allowing him to have his riches justified when he ignored the poor man, letting him starve to death?

Look at this line of the parable: 22 "Now the poor man died and was carried away by the angels to Abraham's bosom; and the rich man also died and was buried."

Jesus does not mince His Words. He makes it clear that the poor man went straight to Heaven. Jesus does not say the poor man was buried but, ...was carried away by the angels to Abraham's bosom... But the fate of the rich man leaves a coldness, a finality, a truth, there was nothing more for him “.... and was buried...” It was done; finished. There was no other place to go.

Maybe we think, on reading this, that we are living a fairly good life: doing what we are supposed to, having our riches and justifying them... “I worked all my life for this...I deserve it...”

Maybe we know what is being said here and we feel guilty and want to change, want to live Jesus' Words in Scripture. Then we must look around us and see the things that are in our lives...the good AND the bad. We must change these and not allow ourselves to be influenced when we see the purple and fine linen. We must see the poor man ...at his gate.

When we begin dying to ourselves, by dying to the things in this world that influence us away from God, we begin to see what matters...as Jesus said in a Message on Wednesday 1 March 2023 "...If your faith is only that of a frightened man, or a man that thinks only of himself, or, again, a man that is proud, you will only see what you want to see; you are blind and lead others to be blind like you..." He calls us not to be blind but to "see". To see the things that matter more than riches or "things", to see the poor man at the gate. We can only see this by looking in the opposite direction to ourselves. Nothing half-heartedly but a real turn from self.

Does our big TV take us away from spending time from God? Are our hobbies not allowing us to have time with God because they are so important in our lives? These things matter to us but God should matter more in our lives. He should matter more than purple and fine linen.

If we see only the things of this world then we do not think that time is passing. We will only see time passing when our big TV or our purple and fine linen have worn out and need replaced. We are not prepared for the reality of what is next because we spent our time making ourselves blinder, like the rich man.

Maybe, we know all these things and STILL choose to have the purple and fine linen. Maybe we do see and still choose to remain blind. While we live in this life, that does not matter. There are no thunderbolts from Heaven, warning us that we need to change and see the truth, His Truth. The rich man did not receive thunderbolts either but he received his reward: "...they will not be persuaded even if Someone rises from the dead..."

APPEAL FROM JESUS

Wednesday 29 March 2023

My children, once again, I call for your help with My Houses. I call each one of you to look into your hearts and see the Truth of My Words. I have told you that My own will recognise My Voice. Can you not see how I prepare for what is to come? Soon, you will see what you have built with your prayer, your sacrifice and your giving. This is why I call you, My remnant, once again, to help with My Houses which are in need.

Trust Me, children of Mine, for, soon, you will understand the meaning of My Words and My Refuges of Light. I prepare, through you, My remnant. My Houses of Prayer have been built by you and through your free will and so cannot be destroyed by demon or man for their foundations are built of the Spirit of Giving. My Spirit has bound My Houses of Prayer and they will stand to the end of time. See what you have built, children of Mine. I Love you.

As you can see from the Words Jesus has given in this Message, the Houses, once again, are in need of help; the bills are building, once again. The bills stand at about £45,200 for the day to day running costs of the fifteen Houses and the ongoing renovations. We are continuing with the renovations of the Houses, in faith and trust that Jesus will inspire His people to help finance the work we do. Remember, we do not just ask for financial help, we ask for your prayers, your sacrifices, to build what Jesus has asked for.

We thank you for all your help, your prayers, your sacrifices and your financial help for it is you who have built all the Houses through your giving. We thank you, once again, in Jesus' Name.

The two Patricks and the servants of the Houses.

THE HOUSES OF PRAYER

Lady of the Sacred Heart House Wembley

As you know, we are including updates on each of the Houses of Prayer in our Newsletters. We are trying to do this, in as much as possible, in the date order that each of the Houses came.

Some of the earliest Houses are no longer physical Houses but we wanted to get the ball rolling in bringing you the most up to date information we had on the Houses of Prayer, so we began with the earliest physical House which is the one in Cosio, Spain and brought you information on this in the January Newsletter.

And in the February Newsletter, we brought you the information we have on the Shrine of the Sacred Heart of Mary House of Prayer.

However, there were other Houses established before these, and Jesus' request for these Houses still stands, even if they are no longer there, so we will just print whatever information we have about all the Houses.

Chronological order

The chronological order of either Jesus asking for a House or someone giving a House to be a

House of Prayer is as follows:

-Sacred Heart House of Prayer, Cookstown, 1994

-Lady of the Sacred Heart, Wembley, London, (asked for at end of 1994)

-Saint Michael and the Heavenly Hosts, Tottenham, London, (1996)

-Saint Margaret Mary, Spain (1997)

-Saint Joseph House of Prayer, Coventry (requested 1997, opened 2001)

-Soledad, Cosío, (requested in 1996, purchased 2001)

-Bethlehem House of Prayer

-Shrine of the Sacred Heart of Mary House of Prayer, Ireland, (2003)

-House of Angels House of Prayer, Northern Ireland, 2004)

-Saint Maximillian House of Prayer, France (2005)

-Mother of Love House of Prayer, USA, (Requested by Jesus in 1997, House was established in 2005)

-Saint Stanislaus House of Prayer, Poland (Requested by Jesus in 2006, House was established in 2007)

-Saint Nikolaus House of Prayer, Germany. (Requested by Jesus in 2005, House was established in 2007)

-Virgin Most Pure House of Prayer, Slovenia (Requested by Jesus in 2007, House was established in 2008)

-Resurrection Retreat House, Ballina, Ireland, (2009)

-Villa del Sagrado Corazon, Spain (Requested by Jesus in 2009, House was established in 2010)

-Saint Therese, House of Prayer, Belgium (2010)

-John Paul II Youth House, Belmullet, Ireland (2011)

-Saint Joseph Equestrian Centre, Cookstown.

Yet to be established

This list does not include those Houses yet to be established. There are other places in the world where Jesus has asked for a House of Prayer. These include East London, Manchester, Madrid, Holland, Africa and Monaco.

Lady of the Sacred Heart House of Prayer

At the end of 1994, the two Patricks were on tour in England, and were invited to a house in Wembley, London. There, they met Colleen De Cruz. Jesus told them, as they entered, that this would be another House of Prayer, and that it would be dedicated to His Mother, Mary.

Jesus gave a Message on their second tour of London, and He asked that it be called Lady of the Sacred Heart House of Prayer. It was to be dedicated to Our Lady and its prayer was to be offered for all the victims of abortion.

One of the things that the Lord has asked for is that, from the Lady of the Sacred Heart House, a team of dedicated people go out into the streets of London, armed with love, sandwiches, tea, coffee, clothes and blankets, and - without criticism or judgement - go feed the hungry, clothe the naked and give the thirsty a drink. There are many lovely people who are homeless and Jesus calls us all to do our part.

As it Stands

Unfortunately, following Colleen's death, the Lady of the Sacred Heart House of Prayer no longer exists.

However, we believe that Jesus still wants a House here and so, we wait to see in what direction Jesus will lead with regard to this House.

Saint Michael and the Heavenly Hosts House of Prayer

This is the next House in Chronological order. This House of Prayer is in Tottenham, London. Presently this House is going through some changes and we hope to update you on this next month.

Current Work on the Houses of Prayer

Since Jesus asked in January for us to make this year the 'Year of My Houses', we are pleased to say that, currently there are three Houses that are being worked on.

We ask for your continued prayers and support for these projects.

ON SUNDAY 25 JUNE
AT SAINT JOSEPH EQUESTRIAN CENTRE

FEATURING SONLIGHT AND SPECIAL GUESTS

We, at SonLight, felt that we wanted to bring our Prayer Meeting further out to the public. A few years ago we held our first 'Beyond the Song' event and, due to its success, we have made this an annual occurrence that is open to the wider public.

There will be Holy Mass on the day.

Our hope is to create an atmosphere of worship and prayer where we can all praise God together as one voice. As Saint Augustine says, "to sing is to pray twice"! We hope this is a seed that will grow into a mighty oak!

EVENT WILL ALSO BE LIVE STREAMED ON FACEBOOK,

Resist Temptaion

We are now in the Easter Season but the battle against the world, the flesh and the devil continues every minute of every day. In this Message, Jesus asks us to offer Him the effort that it takes to resist temptation. Every temptation that presents itself, should the sweat break on our brow, let's fight it for Jesus! This earth is our desert, our Gethsemane. The more we love Jesus - by resisting temptation - the more souls we can help Jesus to bring to Heaven.

Holy Thursday 13 April 2006

My children, I Love you. I speak Words to you this Night because I wish you to love Me by understanding what I am saying to you.

This Night is My Night of Sorrow; a Sorrow that went beyond human understanding. I was God, yet, I took on your humanness so that you could know that I understood, deeply, what humanness is. I became Sorrow itself and I sweated Blood from the intensity of it.

I want you to understand, this Night, that there is so much more that you could offer to Me to use to tell others what you already know. I ask you to offer Me the effort of giving yourself to Me; the sheer will of force it takes to resist temptation, I wish you to give that to Me.

By asking this, I am asking you, through the giving of the effort, that you understand what is expected of you in giving yourself to Me; following Me.

Do not sit static and give in to every temptation that presents itself to you but make a greater effort to resist it. The world tells you to give in and you follow it. I ask of you to make a greater effort than you are now to resist it. If you do this then you will begin to see why you are following Me.

Follow Me into the Garden of Gethsemane this Night and watch with Me. I have much Sorrow to face.

My children, if you allow Me, I will embroider your lives into Mine, skillfully weaving the most beautiful colours into your lives with My Words but you must make the effort to resist the wiles of the evil one for, it is when you do, that you begin to see the Path that I wish you to follow. Begin to do this for Me, this Night. I Love you.

This is the second part of this article. The first part was in last month's Newsletter.

4. Tabernacle

Since there were no churches during those early centuries, Christians did not have a tabernacle. However, as we do today, they were careful to protect the Blessed Sacrament. There is some evidence that following their divine services, Christians took the consecrated bread home and consumed it during the week. By the fourth century, when construction of churches began, any reserved hosts were kept in various rooms in the church, including an area that became known as the sacristy. Theft, pilferage or worse was a serious threat, especially following the Protestant Reformation, when violence was carried out against the Catholic Church.

The design of the tabernacle slowly evolved, and by the 16th century tabernacles similar to those we have today were in use. Canon Law spells out the rules for the tabernacle's location: "The tabernacle in which the Blessed Eucharist is reserved should be sited in a distinguished place in the church or oratory, a place which is conspicuous, suitably adorned and conducive to prayer" (No. 938.2). As authorized by Church law, and approved by the local bishop, some churches use a separate chapel to house the tabernacle. The tendency today is to keep the tabernacle in proximity to the altar.

 Wherever located, the tabernacle is always locked and immovable in order to protect the Eucharist.*

5. Sanctuary Lamp

In every Catholic church we find a readily visible lamp or candle burning before the tabernacle. This is the same light the Magi followed until they found the baby Jesus in a stable. This ever-present light still beckons to each of us. We all look for the flickering flame as soon as we enter the church. Our attitude and demeanor change as we recognize that we are in the house of the living God. The flame signifies his presence and a sign that our love for the Lord is eternal, never to be extinguished.

Called the sanctuary lamp, it was first used in the 13th century, and Canon Law 940 requires the lamp to burn continuously. This perpetual light is mentioned in Leviticus 6:6 in discussing the fire for burnt offerings: "Fire shall be kept burning upon the altar continuously; it shall not go out.”

* The flame of the tabernacle lamp is purposely transferred from candle to candle beginning with the fire lit at the Easter Vigil Mass.

6. Ambo

During the Mass, the ambo is the focal point for the Liturgy of the Word. From this kind of tall, elevated desk, “only the readings, the responsorial psalm and Easter proclamation (Exsultet) are to be proclaimed; it may be used also for giving the homily and for announcing the intentions of the prayer of the faithful” (General Instruction of the Roman Missal, No. 309). The design and location of the altar and ambo emphasize the close relationship between the Liturgy of the Word and the Liturgy of the Eucharist: from the holy altar we receive the body and blood of Christ, and from the ambo, Christ’s holy doctrine. In this regard the ambo, like the altar, is not just an object but a sacred place.

The General Instruction of the Roman Missal also explains: “The dignity of the word of God requires that the church have a place that is suitable for the proclamation of the word and toward which the attention of the whole congregation of the faithful naturally turns during the Liturgy of the Word.”

Once the persecution of Christians ended in the fourth century, churches were built and designed with an ambo or raised platform, making it easier for the congregation to hear. Around the ninth century, the pulpit replaced the ambo and was located either in the sanctuary or the nave.

* Typically, early Church ambos had steps going up each side with an area at the top big enough for the reader and servers with candles to stand.

7. Celebrant’s Chair

During the Mass, the priest represents Our Lord Jesus, persona Christi, and thus the priest’s chair always is distinguishable from other seats in the church. The chair is not designed as the place for a king; it is not a royal throne, not palatial, but it is easily differentiated from other chairs in the sanctuary and recognized as the place for the one who leads the congregation. The chair is always placed so to be seen from the nave. “The chair of the priest celebrant must signify his office of presiding over the gathering and directing the prayer” (GIRM, No. 310).

* In a cathedral, the chair is known as the cathedra. This chair is from which the bishop exercises both his teaching authority and role as a successor of the apostles.

8. Images, Statues and Relics

Statues and pictures of Jesus, the Blessed Mother and the saints adorn nearly every church. Catholics don’t pray to or worship statues; rather we venerate, we admire, respect and seek to imitate the individual emulated in the statue. We worship our living Lord, Jesus Christ, not his statue. The saints depicted in our churches lived lives of heroic virtue and are now in heaven, where they can intercede for us before God.

The statues, pictures, even the stained-glass windows, tell about Jesus and the Scriptures. These images have long been an important educational tool, especially in the first 1,500 years of Christianity when few people were literate.

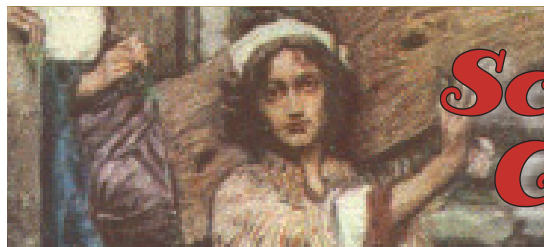

Relics are treated in a similar way, as best explained by St. Jerome

(340-420): "We do not worship, we do not adore, for fear that we should bow down to the creature rather than to the Creator, but we venerate the relics of the martyr in order the better to adore him whose martyrs they are."

* The Second Council of Nicea and the Council of Trent reiterated that the faithful venerate the person represented by the image and not the image itself.

Song of the Carpenter

The following is a serialisation of the 'Song of the Carpenter,' a novel inspired by Jesus and written down by the two Patricks. It is about the entire Life of Jesus and is full of spiritual teachings as well as a simply fantastic read.

If you cannot wait to read it all, then you can order it from the Sacred Heart House of Prayer. It costs £6.99.

Herod realised that he had been tricked. The men from the East had not returned to him. His anger spilled over and he spoke with the Roman guard. His orders were clear.

Two days later as the sun broke over the horizon a legion of Roman soldiers left the garrison in Jerusalem. The day was quiet and uneventful and they galloped towards Bethlehem. The sun caught the metal of their shields and reflected itself, blinding anyone who might be looking, giving the soldiers a formidable look. People along the road covered their eyes and wondered what fuss the Romans were making now, probably riots somewhere. They rode on regardless of what people thought. Lucius, the centurion that headed the command of the legion behind him, was in two minds about the orders that he had been given. He was an ordinary centurion and had been in the army for five years. Promoted to the rank of non-commissioned officer only two years ago had raised his pay a little and he had felt proud of his achievement. One hundred men under his command and he had done his job well always hoping for more promotion. In the army, if they thought you had potential they would recognise it. If you were smart you could stay alive.

His muscular body was taut as he held the reins. He had been given command of these hundreds of men who rode behind him. It was not that he did not want the promotion, no; his father would be proud of him were he to see him today. It was his orders that bothered him. He gritted his teeth and pushed down the bile of fear that had lodged itself in his throat. The five hundred horsemen galloped down the hill towards Bethlehem leaving a thick, foggy trail of dust behind them. They slowed as they approached the gate. They pushed through the crowds that had gathered there and made their way to the market square.

There they dismounted and divided themselves into centuries and stood waiting for Lucius to give the order. He gave it.

The people who were there in the market place could taste the fear that these Romans permeated into them. It penetrated with spikes and tore at their very hearts. They could smell death as an animal can, as it is ready to be slaughtered. The cold realisation of what was happening now gripped them and a wave of panic caught them as it catches a herd of cattle when it smells a wolf. Panic was the driving force that made them run for homes or tents or lodgings to get out of the way of whatever was coming.

The soldiers pulled well-sharpened, short swords from their scabbards and each century fanned out and made its way to its destination. Lucius headed his own century. He knew his own men.

They walked down a narrow street – Street of Lights – exuding might and force; and soldiers broke rank and entered houses along the streets length. Lucius kicked in the fragile wooden door of a house and entered, telling himself that this was the enemy; they would kill him if he did not kill them.

There were five people cowering in that house, a mother, father and three children. The mother recoiled against the wall; the side of her face was pressed into it as if she could get through it. Lucius saw the abject terror in her eyes and she reminded him of an animal just before slaughter. She was holding a male child; her arms tight around it and his face squashed against her breast. The damp smell of the house caught his nostrils.

“How old is this male child, woman?” He shouted into her face. The father who was beside her spoke in a fearful voice, "He is one year old, my lord. He..."

The man got no further for Lucius had whipped the child from its mother and was holding it by the arm. The child screamed inconsolably, the mucus running from its nose.

The noise within the house was deafening as the mother screamed and the other children screamed. Lucius did not dare look at the child but gripped his sword. He placed the convulsive body of the child with its back across his knee and ran the cold edge of the blade across its neck. Its cries stopped suddenly and a gurgling, bubbling sound replaced it.

The blood from the child's neck spurted out like a fountain and the mother screamed a new scream. It was different from before; this was not fear of a Roman soldier, this was shock; this was unbelief. The shock made her stand, animated and, still screaming, she went to him, her wild eyes dancing in her head and grasped the child. He let go. Still screaming the woman made for him, her face and hands covered in blood as his was; she was like a lioness ready for the kill. She held the dead and lifeless child in one arm and with the other hand she scratched her nails down the side of his face. The nails dug deep for they were long and they were dirty. And still she screamed and stared at him. He felt the pain in his face and winced.

The woman began to hit him, one fist flailing about his head and chest. The father was now on his feet and was ready to defend himself. Lucius' ears were deafened by the screams of the children. He felt like a caged animal and panic rose in him like a volcano and threatened to overcome him. He grabbed the woman by the face and pushed her away from him. She fell against the wall that she had pressed against only moments ago. He heard the crack and blood stained the wall.

Now the father screamed but Lucius did not wait. He was out the door and into the sunshine once more. But there was no relief. He was covered in blood, the child's blood; scarlet blood. It should not be on me, a fleeting thought told him; it had escaped the mask he had put over his mind. This would wash clean in the baths but the memory of this day was stained on his soul forever.

He was aware now that all around him the same carnage was desecrating the town. Soldiers with swords dripping blood chasing women to kill their children; the blood lust had a life of its own driving at them; needing sated, needing sacrifice. Newborn infants, toddlers, even women, men, lay dead and dying on the streets. Screams: high-pitched wailings rang in his ears. They rang in his body and penetrated his soul. The smell of human blood was everywhere. Panic and fear stalked these streets and preyed upon civilians and soldiers alike. Soldiers had become butchers, slaying innocent babes in their mother's arms.

A scream began in the pit of Lucius' stomach and worked its way up into his throat. He screamed at the world; he screamed at the gods; he screamed at the people for not fighting hard enough for their children. He screamed at himself for he could feel hell grasp his heels. He could feel it hold his soul in its icy grip.

John Paul II

APOSTOLIC LETTER: NOVO MILLENNIO INEUNTE Of his Holiness Pope John Paul II to the bishops, clergy and lay faithful at the close of the Great Jubilee of the year 2000

To my brother bishops, to priests and deacons, men and women religious and all the lay faithful.

1. At the beginning of the new millennium, and at the close of the Great Jubilee during which we celebrated the two thousandth anniversary of the birth of Jesus and a new stage of the Church's journey begins, our hearts ring out with the words of Jesus when one day, after speaking to the crowds from Simon's boat, he invited the Apostle to "put out into the deep" for a catch: "Duc in altum" (Lk 5:4). Peter and his first companions trusted Christ's words, and cast the nets. "When they had done this, they caught a great number of fish" (Lk 5:6).

Duc in altum! These words ring out for us today, and they invite us to remember the past with gratitude, to live the present with enthusiasm and to look forward to the future with confidence: "Jesus Christ is the same yesterday and today and for ever" (Heb 13:8).

The Church's joy was great this year, as she devoted herself to contemplating the face of her Bridegroom and Lord. She became more than ever a pilgrim people, led by him who is the "the great shepherd of the sheep" (Heb 13:20). With extraordinary energy, involving so many of her members, the People of God here in Rome, as well as in Jerusalem and in all the individual local churches, went through the "Holy Door" that is Christ. To him who is the goal of history and the one Saviour of the world, the Church and the Spirit cried out: "Marana tha — Come, Lord Jesus" (cf. Rev 22:17, 20; 1 Cor 16:22).

It is impossible to take the measure of this event of grace which in the course of the year has touched people's hearts. But certainly, "a river of living water", the water that continually flows "from the throne of God and of the Lamb" (cf. Rev 22:1), has been poured out on the Church. This is the water of the Spirit which quenches thirst and brings new life (cf. Jn 4:14). This is the merciful love of the Father which has once again been made known and given to us in Christ. At the end of this year we can repeat with renewed jubilation the ancient words of thanksgiving: "Give thanks to the Lord for he is good, for his love endures for ever" (Ps 118:1).

2. For all this, I feel the need to write to you, dearly beloved, to share this song of praise with you. From the beginning of my Pontificate, my thoughts had been on this Holy Year 2000 as an important appointment. I thought of its celebration as a providential opportunity during which the Church, thirty-five years after the Second Vatican Ecumenical Council, would examine how far she had renewed herself, in order to be able to take up her evangelizing mission with fresh enthusiasm.

Has the Jubilee succeeded in this aim? Our commitment, with its generous efforts and inevitable failings, is under God's scrutiny. But we cannot fail to give thanks for the "marvels" the Lord has worked for us: "Misericordias Domini in aeternum cantabo" (Ps 89:2).

At the same time, what we have observed demands to be reconsidered, and in a sense "deciphered", in order to hear what the Spirit has been saying to the Church (cf. Rev 2:7,11,17, etc.) during this most intense year.

3. Dear Brothers and Sisters, it is especially necessary for us to direct our thoughts to the future which lies before us. Often during these months we have looked towards the new millennium which is beginning, as we lived this Jubilee not only as a remembrance of the past, but also as a prophecy of the future. We now need to profit from the grace received, by putting it into practice in resolutions and guidelines for action. This is a task I wish to invite all the local churches to undertake. In each of them, gathered around their Bishop, as they listen to the word and "break bread" in brotherhood (cf. Acts 2:42), the "one holy catholic and apostolic Church of Christ is truly present and operative". It is above all in the actual situation of each local church that the mystery of the one People of God takes the particular form that fits it to each individual context and culture.

In the final analysis, this rooting of the Church in time and space mirrors the movement of the Incarnation itself. Now is the time for each local Church to assess its fervour and find fresh enthusiasm for its spiritual and pastoral responsibilities, by reflecting on what the Spirit has been saying to the People of God in this special year of grace, and indeed in the longer span of time from the Second Vatican Council to the Great Jubilee. It is with this purpose in mind that I wish to offer in this Letter, at the conclusion of the Jubilee Year, the contribution of my Petrine ministry, so that the Church may shine ever more brightly in the variety of her gifts and in her unity as she journeys on.

Jesus would have flipped that table

Stop sitting at tables Jesus would have flipped. You wonder why God isn't moving in your life? You wonder why He isn't moving in your church? Maybe it's because He would be flipping tables instead of sitting at them.

You can't have gossip on your lips one minute and sing songs of praise the next. Jesus would have flipped that table.

You can't quench the Holy Spirit to glorify man. Jesus would have flipped that table.

You can't claim the title but compromise the lifestyle. Jesus would have flipped that table.

You can't water down the gospel to get more people in the pew. Jesus would have flipped that table.

You can't pick and choose what part of the Bible you believe. Jesus would have flipped that table.

You can't drink with the sinner and worship with the saint. Jesus would have flipped that table.

You can't profess your love for Him on Sunday but be in bed with the world on Friday. Jesus would have flipped that table.

You can't white wash sin to appease itchy ears. Jesus would have flipped that table.

You can't paint up your face to look the part but deny Him in every other way. Jesus would have flipped that table.

You can't have a Bible on your night stand and pornography on your phone. Jesus would have flipped that table.

You can't be a Proverbs 31 woman on Sunday and a mean girl on Monday. Jesus would have flipped that table.

You can't be a preacher man one minute then a party boy the next. Jesus would have flipped that table.

You can't compromise obedience for comfort. Jesus would have flipped that table.

You can't neglect holiness for praise. Jesus would have flipped that table.

You can't have a move of God when your agenda is more important. Jesus would have flipped that table.

The fear of God will produce His glory. The fear of man will quench His Spirit. You can't feast at the table of world and try to pull up chair at the banquet table of the Lamb at the same time. Come out from amongst them. Be Holy for He is Holy. Compromise will never bring forth fruit worthy of repentance. Stop sitting at tables Jesus would have flipped.

The Plight of Others

THE PLIGHT OF ANNOUNCING SIN

Homosexuality

Matthew Grech is facing a court appearance in February (this has since been deferred to early April) and, if found guilty of the crime he has been charged with, he will face a fine of up to €5000 or up to five months in prison. His crime? Renouncing his homosexual lifestyle!

Malta, where Matthew resides, introduced a law in 2016 called 'conversion therapy.' Similar laws are being proposed in many countries, including the UK and the devolved government here in Northern Ireland. Initially, the idea of such legislation was to outlaw practices such as eletro-shock treatment to cure homosexuality. However it has progressed into something potentially more encompassing, as this case against Matthew shows.

Matthew gave an interview to PM News programme, which is now resulting in him and two presenters being arrested and charged with crimes against the conversion therapy laws. In the interview, Matthew tells his testimony of how, by the Grace of God, he turned his back on his homosexual lifestyle. "I understood that, in the Bible, homosexuality is not an identity as we make it nowadays. And neither is it a feeling or a practice" he said. He, through the Power of Jesus in his life, left behind the sin he was attached to and begun living a life more in tune with the Ways of Jesus and the Bible.

Against the law

So telling his story of conversion from a particular sin in his life, seemingly, in Malta, is against the law!

As we can clearly see, the "homosexual lobby" is fighting hard to completely normalise this type of sin. One of the best ways to normalise a sin in society, is to make laws that legitimise them in people's eyes. And, the biggest target for this lobby are those who have renounced this lifestyle by the Power of Jesus. Ironically, if a gay man claims to be a women, he is no longer seen as gay. And yet this is not seen as a conversion!!! The world encourages people to "be themselves", to do "what ever makes you happy as long as it doesn't cause harm to others". It says "who am I to judge?" Yet, Jesus calls for us to die to self, remove sin from our lives - freedom from sin is the Path to both holiness and happiness.

Laws dictate when, where and how we can pray

More and more laws are introduced that prevent us from using our free will to choose right and wrong. When laws prevent you from doing acts of love, offering women an alternative to killing their son or daughter in the womb, when laws dictate when, where and how we can pray and worship God, when laws that prevent people sharing how the Power of Jesus changed their lives and removed a sin from their life, we are seeing, in front of our eyes, many of the prophecies from various places being fulfilled including the Messages of Love.

Wednesday 28 October 2020

I Warned you that a court would decide when and how you would pray: has this not come to pass children? Look through the Words I have given to you and see how many things I have told you have come to pass.

Look at My Church: look at the deceivers that are now controlling it through lies. I have told you that many of you would be excommunicated for believing in My Truth. Many, many, of My Prophets, Visionaries and Seers will be excommunicated for spreading My Truth. The demons have grown so strong through man's gift of sin to them.

I have Warned you, My children, of this time through My Mother, My Saints, My Prophets, My Seers and My Visionaries. I have Warned you through My Scriptures and still, you do not listen.

Look around you at the devastation. Look at how you are controlled by those who think they are doing good but are only puppets of lucifer.

Wake up, mankind, for you have angered the Creator, the Father of All. You have persecuted His people.

You have blasphemed His Name and that of His Son and the Spirit of all that is Good.

You have been given many chances to return and all you think of is your pleasure, your wealth and your greed.

I tell you to repent of your evil ways for you cannot imagine what you have called up by your sin. If it was not for Me, your God, your planet would be in cinders at this time for it is Me that holds back the wrath of lucifer against all creation.

What you see now is but a fraction of the powers that you have given to him. You have forced Me to intervene now and set the free will of mankind aside so that all can be cleansed and renewed, once again, in Love.

Woe to you, inhabitants of this earth, for you have called a Great and Terrible Chastisement down upon yourselves! All that you have built, all that you have invented, all that you have strived for in your greed, will be consumed in the Fire of Justice. You have angered your God, mankind, and now the Father of All will reclaim His Creation.

Trust in Me and prepare. I have told you how, My Mother has told you how, to prepare. Simply do what has been asked of you: die to self, reject the sin in your lives and follow Me in Truth.

I Love you.

Suffering in The Garden of Gethsemane

So much distress

Meditating on Jesus' Agony in the Garden of Gethsemane, I have often wondered what He saw that night that caused Him so much distress to sweat drops of Blood. What was so vile, filthy and horrible that caused Jesus to shrink back in dread? The sin of the ages was in that cup. Our sins were in that cup. What must it have been like for the Lord to see, all at once, every sin that every human being has or will ever commit, all the way from the disobedience of Adam and Eve, up until the last sin to be committed at the end of time?

The utter horror

We only have to look at the darkness of sin in our world today to see the Pain He must have endured, accepting the punishment of all our sins for our Salvation. Jesus, even in His perfect Humanity, shrank back at the utter horror of it and so He cried out to His Father to remove this cup from Him.

That night, Luke, a physician, recorded: "And being in agony, He prayed more earnestly. Then His sweat became like great drops of blood falling down to the ground" (Luke 22:44).

Extreme anguish

Hematidrosis is a rare medical condition that causes one's sweat to contain blood. The cause of hematidrosis is extreme anguish which is evident in the other Gospel accounts, "My soul is overwhelmed with sorrow to the point of death" (Matthew 26:38;

cf. Mark 14:34).

An Abyss of Love and Pain

In the book, 'The Sacred Heart - An Abyss of Love and Pain,' Jesus speaks about the suffering in the Garden of Gethsemane: "It was when I saw your sin and all the sins of your brothers and sisters who had lived and who would live upon this earth - I knew that I would have to take all of these and Suffer for them, to have you with Me. I did not want to lose one of you; no, not one. My Burden was great as I fell to the ground with the weight of sin. My Humanness could not take it. Blood was forced from Me, as you would sweat, My little one. I was totally alone."

He knew

Being God, Christ knew in painstaking detail, the events that were to follow soon after He was betrayed by one of His very own disciples. He knew He was about to undergo several trials where all of the witnesses against Him would lie. He knew that many who had hailed Him as the Messiah, only days earlier, would now be screaming for His crucifixion. He knew He would be flogged nearly to the point of death before they pounded the metal spikes into His Flesh. He knew the prophetic Words of Isaiah, spoken seven centuries earlier, that He would be beaten so badly that He would be "disfigured beyond that of any man" and "beyond human likeness." Certainly, these things factored into His great anguish and Sorrow, causing Him to sweat drops of Blood.

The spiritual pain

Crucifixion was considered to be the most painful and torturous method of execution ever devised and was used on the most despised and wicked people. In fact, so horrific was the pain that a word was designed to help explain it - excruciating, which literally means "from the cross." As our sinless Saviour bore the weight of the world's sins on His Shoulders, His Father must have looked away, as His "eyes are too pure to look on evil" (Habakkuk 1:13), causing Jesus to cry out "Eloi, Eloi, lama sabachthani?" - "My God, My God, why have You forsaken Me?" The spiritual pain of this feeling of abandonment no doubt greatly exceeded the intense physical Pain the Lord endured on our behalf.

The Pain of Love

At the beginning of creation, human history began in a garden and when the first Adam sinned against God, death entered the world. Thousands of years later, Jesus Christ, the last Adam, entered into another garden to accept the cup from His Father's Hand and death was about to be swallowed up in victory.

In a Message of 26 April 1992, Jesus said: "The Pain of Love in Gethsemane was terrible, My children. My Humanness was welling up inside Me and I wanted to live, to be with you, to stay with you but I knew that I had to go, to Die in order to Love you more. I gave My Life in place of you. I was the Sacrifice that God required to cleanse all of you from time began until it ends. I was the Love that Perished, so that it could be fulfilled.

If I was to give My Life for all of you, it was to be once and for all. I Died all of your deaths so that Forgiveness could be born, so that Eternal Life could be born. The suffering in the Garden was threefold: the Forgiveness, the Eternal Life and so that My Own Body could be consumed by you. The Droplets of Blood that fell from Me came from My Heart out of Love for you."

To comfort Him

When Jesus left the disciples, He asked them to remain and watch with Him but when He returned, He found them sleeping. "My friends had fallen asleep at the gate; but I would not give up this burden for I Loved you so much." (An Abyss of Love and Pain). This sometimes reminds me of my spiritual Journey with Jesus. How often has Jesus needed me and called me to pray? How often have I ignored those calls, putting them to the back of my mind and putting the world or myself first? How often does He rely on me for help in my prayers and I fail Him? How often do I miss the opportunity to comfort Him in His sorrow and appease His Pain because of my selfishness?

He did not give up

Jesus endured such agony and torture for my sins and even now His Pain still continues. He did not give up because He Loved us so much. Let us then show Jesus how much we can love Him back by not giving up, by answering Him when He calls, offering Him little sacrifices and acts of love to appease His Pain and helping Him to carry His Burden of Love. Thank You, Jesus. I love You.

Letters to the HoP

Grateful to the Sacred Heart

To the House of Prayer,
This letter is over due.

This week meant a lot to me to send my wishes of Saint Patrick to the two Patricks and all who work in the House of Prayer.

I've received many Blessings through your prayers and Messages, keeps me focused on Christ. I'm enclosing ... for the Newsletter Messages I've been receiving.

I'm grateful to the Sacred Heart. I was not able to keep up with the daily demands in the family, please pray for me and my family that they will receive the Light and Love of Christ in their life, Grace to open their heart and to the Sacraments.

Concerned Mother.

Thanking you, once again.

With sincerity and gratitude.

Yvonne
