

My Heart bubbles over with Joy
when you come to Me as a little child;
accepting, obedient, willing to do My Will...

An Invitation to Love Jesus Newsletter Messages of Love November 2023 Issue 330

Editorial

The Messages

Jesus continues to guide us through these times. He tells us to fight our sin and, by doing this, we are preparing for His Spirit to come. As we die to ourselves, the scales will fall from our eyes. Jesus offers us great hope in His Words by telling us that His Power will walk this earth and many, many shall return to Him. He gathers His lost sheep. Given these Messages that He speaks, it seems all the more important to try to offer all we can in these Advent weeks for the Salvation of the world as He asked for in the important Message published on the back cover of last month's Newsletter.

This Newsletter

As well as some seasonal articles, we have printed a few writings on The Weekend with the Patricks which was in October this year. These touch on some of the things learned and discussed at that Weekend.

Don't say no to Jesus

On the back cover of this Newsletter we have the lyrics of a Song written by Patrick Rushe and arranged by SonLight approximately seven years ago. It really is a great upbeat pop tune with a significant message to us all this Christmas: "...Don't say no to giving all of you...to Jesus..."

A video of SonLight singing this song can be viewed on our 'invitationlovejesus' or 'sonlight' youtube channels, entitled 'Don't Say No!'

Happy Christmas!

We want to take this opportunity to thank you for all your support through the year and to wish you all a very peaceful, holy and happy Christmas. May God Bless you all.

The Messages of Love

as given to the two Patricks

you of this time when all would live in the darkness of self.

I have come to undo the lies; I have told you, My Spirit is upon this earth, drawing the darkness out of hiding. Trust in Me and know I am with you.

Believe and prepare.

I Love you.

Wednesday 1 November 2023

Children, trust in Me like never before and do not fear the events of this earth. I have told you, I will intervene, and mankind will be given a chance to return. Now trust Me and have faith that I will look after My own; those who try to follow Me in Truth. My Laws are My Laws and man cannot change the Laws that have been written in stone.

Have faith and follow My Laws and do not give in to the pressure to accept sin as Truth. Have faith in Me and stay with My Truth, I will guide you if you but try to walk with Me.

Trust Me.

I Love you.

Thursday 2 November 2023

Have faith in Me and believe in My Truth. Do not fear the events of this world at this time. Trust Me and know I have already Warned

Friday 3 November 2023

My children, have faith in Me, your God, and do not worry. Simply trust in Me and walk this Journey of Truth with Me. Sin is your enemy, sin is what blocks you from getting to know Me in Truth. So many think they know Me but all they know is a shadow of what I am because of their unwillingness to fight the sin in their lives.

Sin is something that mankind tries to justify to themselves but sin cannot be justified; sin is darkness and is the pathway to hell. Die to self and you will experience a new life with Me, your God.

I Love you, children, and I give you your life on this earth as a Gift so that you can decide, in free will, if you want to be with Me in Heaven or not. You decide this by your actions, if you are willing to fight the sin in your life then you show Me you are worthy of Heaven. If you refuse to fight the sin, then you show Me that you do not wish to enter Heaven and hell will be where you spend eternity. The decision is yours, children.

This is why I point you onto the Path of Truth in these Words I speak for there are so many who try to change My Truth into a lie, in order to justify their sin. You can see this within My Church as those in power try to justify their sin by getting everyone to accept it as Truth.

Sin is not Truth and will never have any place in My Kingdom.

Wake up, children, and see the Truth and begin to make a New Life with Me, your God.

Trust Me.

I Love you.

Sunday 5 November 2023

Have faith in Me, My children, and trust that this time will end and My children will have Freedom once again. Trust Me, children, for all is changing and this world will have a chance to know Me and repent of its sin.

Have faith for all will be given a chance to return and I will gain many before I am forced to destroy this earth that mankind has created in their greed.

Trust Me, children, and get to know Me.

I Love you.

Monday 6 November 2023

Trust Me and fight for My Truth in your life. Do not allow thoughts of sin to enter your lives: always fight the thoughts that self desires to follow. Self will always wish to walk the path of sin. The more you protect your thoughts, the stronger you will become and the less you will fall to occasions of sin.

Trust Me, children, fight and you will find Freedom.

Trust Me.

I Love you.

Tuesday 7 November 2023

My children, I come to bring Freedom to My followers!

I come to let this world see the Truth.

I come to smash the chains of darkness that hold this world in bondage.

I come for My remnant, to give you Freedom from the tyranny of this age.

Children, look and see, the signs are plain to be seen all around you, yet, so few have taken the time to prepare. Trust Me and prepare and know you have little time left.

I Love you.

Wednesday 8 November 2023

Have faith in Me and fight for My Truth in your life. Do not give in to the thoughts of self. I have told you, self will only lead you on a path of sin and so to hell.

Children, do not blind yourselves to the Truth for those who cast themselves into hell blame Me and call My Truth unjust. Yes, children, all who go to hell try to justify their sin and, in their minds, are convinced that My Truth is evil and barbaric.

Be Warned, children, if you justify your sin in life you will also justify your sin when you die and stand before Me. This is why so many people go to hell every day because they see Me as an evil and corrupt God. Die to self now and see the Truth: repent of your sin and your eyes will open.

Be Warned, children, even those who think they are holy and righteous go to hell because of their refusal to recognise their sin. They refuse to die to self in the way I have shown you in My Scriptures. Trust Me, children, and read My Gospels, get to know Me, die to self and Eternal Life will be yours.

Trust Me.

I Love you.

Friday 10 November 2023

Have faith in Me and do not give in to the temptations of self. Hold on to My Truth, deep within your hearts and I will be with you. Always trust in Me, your God, and I will be there to guide you upon the Path that leads to the Kingdom of Heaven.

Trust Me, children, and take on My Words of Truth.

Trust Me.

I Love you.

Saturday 11 November 2023

Love is what I seek from My followers. Trust Me, children, and allow Me to Teach you in the Ways of Love. Trust Me and allow Me to guide you. When you step upon the Path of dying to self, then I rush to your aid.

Believe Me, self will fight against you for, the part of all humans that veers towards sin is the self, that must be overcome. It is the part that will change My Words to suit sin and try to draw others onto the same path.

Trust Me and walk towards Me by overcoming the sin in your lives.

Trust Me.

I Love you.

Sunday 12 November 2023

Children, come to Me in Truth for events are beginning to move rapidly now and little time is left until I am forced to change the events of this world. I have told you to prepare and so few have listened, so few will see this time to an end. I have Warned you and I will not force you to prepare, it is up to you.

Trust Me.

I Love you.

Tuesday 14 November 2023

Have faith in Me, My children, and believe in the Words I give you. These Words are to guide you upon the Path of Truth and away from the danger of sin.

Sin is darkness.

Sin is your enemy.

Sin will lead you to eternal death in the fires of hell.

This is why, children, I give you so many Words in this time in order to help you fight against the temptations of this age. Never has man been tempted in such a way as in this time. Look at your telephones, My children. Are they not connected to a network of evil, an evil that tempts millions of My people away from Me every day?

Your telephones, your internet, your televisions, have been designed by lucifer to promote sin. You cannot see and refuse to see the danger you are in when you use these devices and, so, lucifer's job is made easy.

You have grown complacent, My children, and now you accept the traps of lucifer without question. Yes, children, if you follow Me in Truth you can promote good through these devices but there are so many temptations that call you to stray away from the Path of good for, they are built to promote sin.

I know many of you refuse to believe these Words but, soon, you shall see the Truth of them; you shall see the great corruption as My Spirit of Truth comes to all mankind and He will open all mankind's eyes to the Truth, then it will be up to each one to decide what path to follow.

I Love you.

Wednesday 15 November 2023

Come to Me often in prayer; sit with Me, children, and know I listen to all your words and I answer all prayer that is asked of Me, with a sincere and humble heart. Trust Me, children, take the time and learn to pray and your life will change.

Trust Me and you will get to know Me, your God.

Trust.

I Love you.

Thursday 16 November 2023

Children, I am changing this earth and, as I do, so you will see more and more lies become visible as those in power become more and more blind to their own actions. I will show all the peoples of this world the Truth of what is happening.

Remember, children, as you see these things, that it is I who show them. Do not allow yourself to become caught up in the anger of those who do not have My Truth in their hearts. Trust Me and stay strong in Me and I will guide you through this time.

Trust Me.

I Love you.

Friday 17 November 2023

Come walk this Path of Truth I set before you. You have entered the 'Time of Great Tribulation' when mankind must endure the fruits of his own sin. I have Warned you for a millennium of these things but you have chosen to ignore My Warnings and now you walk blindly into a chastisement, brought about by your own sin.

Look at My Church. Even now you choose to ignore what the shepherd who sits on the Throne of My Peter does. He freely walks the path of sin and takes My Church with him, while everyone, but a few, tries to justify his actions. I say he and those whom he has gathered around him are against Me; they do not walk the Path of My Truth. They are brigands who have entered the Sheepfold and are slaying the Flock with their lies. They silence My cardinals, bishops and priests who follow Me in Truth and so allow the demons free access to the corridors of My Church.

Be Warned, men of flesh, you are but dust and unto dust you shall return and you shall be cast from My sight if you do not repent of your evil ways.

Be Warned, son of flesh, your days are coming to an end as you gather your flock to you, those who have chosen to follow the darkness and reject Me. You all gather together and I shall cut you from My Body like a cancer and My Church will shine, once again, with My Truth. Repent, now, and be washed in the Blood of the Lamb, while you still can.

Trust Me.

I Love you.

Monday 20 November 2023

Children, have faith in Me, your God, and do not run with the events of this world but stay with Me and My Truth. This world is running headlong into its own destruction. Sin is darkness: death. Sin now covers the greatest part of this earth, there is very little light left and, so, I must intervene to stop the destruction of all life. Trust Me, children, I will bring the Light back to this world and the darkness will be no more as will those who hold on to the darkness. Believe, children, for all is changing and this world is about to see the Power of its God as I reclaim what has been stolen through lies.

Prepare, children, for I will destroy all that stands against My Truth. I have Warned mankind for thousands of years what would happen if they walked away from Me on the path of sin.

Trust Me and prepare.

I Love you.

Monday 20 November 2023

Children, have faith in Me and stay strong in My Truth. Do not listen to those within My Church who want to compromise My Truth in order to create a path for those who only wish to live a life of sin, without repentance. Those at the top wish to create a new church, where all are welcome; a place where sin is accepted as truth. If you follow these wolves, you too will walk the path to hell.

Be Warned, children, I will not accept sin, I will not accept a man lusting after a man, or a woman lusting after a woman. If you do not fight the desires of self and give in to the act of homosexuality, then you walk a path of sin which only leads to hell. I do not accept any form of sin, it is evil and cannot be a part of your life with Me.

You can justify your sin on this earth, you can force people to believe in your sin as being truth but, when you stand before Me with unrepentant sin, you shall be cast into hell for your unwillingness to repent. This is Truth, children: if you walk away from My Law, then you walk away from Me.

Open your eyes and die to self.

I Love you.

Tuesday 21 November 2023

My children, I Love you and, once again, I call you to love. Do not give in to the temptations of self. Self is the part of you that will listen to and act upon the inspirations of lucifer.

Children, if you walk the path of sin in this life and justify your sin, then you will do the same when you stand before Me. Your life is a trial on this earth; a trial that you show Me, by your actions, where you want to spend eternity. If you justify sin then you will spend eternity in hell for you will want no part of Me in death. You will see Me as an unjust God, a God of corruption with harsh laws but, children, you can see My Laws and, I have told you, you must die to self. If you want to spend eternity in Heaven, you must fight the sin in your life and do as I have shown you in My Scriptures and Eternal Life will be yours.

Trust Me and fight for Truth in your life. This life is My Gift to you for you to decide in free will where you want to spend eternity. Have faith, children, and Love will lead you to My Kingdom.

Trust Me.

I Love you.

Tuesday 21 November 2023

Children, have faith in Me and show Me that you believe in My Words by preparing. I am about to show My Power. The Spark of Truth has begun to burn and will become a raging fire that will reclaim those who wish to be Saved.

I will witness to My people through the Jewel that I have created to Save mankind and My Church. I have told you that I would not leave you orphans; I told you that the gates of hell would not prevail against My Church and so I shall fulfil these Words.

This is a 'Time of Cleansing' and the Fire of My Truth will spread out across this earth and My witnesses will show this world I am not a dead God. Prepare, children, for the 'Days of Power' fast approach and so few are ready. Trust Me and prepare.

I Love you.

Wednesday 22 November 2023

Have faith, children, and do not fear the events that are happening and will happen for the cleansing of this world is for those who refuse to see the Truth. Trust Me, children, and walk this Path I set before you. I am coming to bring Freedom to mankind, to those who are willing to see the Truth. I have told you to walk the Path of dying to self so that you can see the Truth.

Children, My Spirit is at work and Truth will be seen, this is why I need you to prepare.

Trust Me.

I Love you.

Thursday 23 November 2023

Have faith in Me and walk this Path of Truth, a Path that I have Taught My followers from the beginning. Trust Me, little time is left before I am forced to intervene in such a way that all on this earth, including science, will not understand. This is why I need you, My followers, to prepare so that you will know and understand and be able to help those who are in need.

Trust Me, children, My Power will change everything and My lost sheep will return, all those who want to listen, will recognise My Voice.

Trust Me.

I Love you.

Friday 24 November 2023

My children, My Word is what I give you to guide you through the darkness.

I am the Word and I will lose none who do not wish to be lost.

Trust Me and take on My Words for they are Life and I can overcome all the problems that you will come across in this life.

Trust Me, come to Me in Truth and your life will change.

Trust. I Love you.

Friday 24 November 2023

Have faith in Me, children, and do not give in to the temptations of this life for they only lead you onto a path that leads to eternal death, in the fires of hell.

I am your God. I listen to all your prayers and I do guide you through this life when you are willing to take a step towards Me.

Remember, I have given you free will; this I will not take from you. Yet, you blame Me for many things that happen in this world.

You say, why does God let this happen or that happen? I do not, children, many, many events take place on this earth because of man's greed, anger, lust, lust for power, lust for war. Man listens to the inspirations of lucifer and then blames Me for his own actions.

Free will means: you choose your own path and, yes, you destroy the paths of many of My children with your sin but, their reward shall be great when their lives have been cut short by the greed of others.

This life on earth is very short, children. You think your lives are long but they are but a blink. When you close your eyes in death and reopen them in Life, you will look at your lives on this earth and realise how short they were and that it was only a trial, a test, given by Me so that you can choose in free will what you want for eternity.

I have given you everything that you need for this trial. I have told you how to fight against the desires of self but, the greatest majority of people that live and have lived on this earth, have chosen in free will not to enter My Kingdom because of their unwillingness to accept that they were wrong in their acceptance, their justification of sin.

Open your eyes and see the Truth, children. Your days are numbered and I will not force you to follow Me. I can see into the hearts of all men; I can see the desires of those who wish to follow Me, who wish to walk a Path of Truth. I can see those who only wish to fulfil self's desire and will do anything and harm anyone to fulfil it.

Prepare, children, for the days are changing. Feel with your heart and you will know the Truth of My Words. I prepare to intervene and shall call My lost sheep, those who have a desire to follow Me in Truth. They shall return to the safety of My Fold and, then, I shall cast the darnel out and they shall be no more and this earth shall live in Peace.

I can tell you, children, if you do not prepare, you will not accept what I am about to show. You shall justify My Gift to this earth as imagination, mass hysteria, hallucination and, yes, you shall find many more justifications as the Power of your God, once again, walks this earth.

Prepare, children.

I Love you.

Saturday 25 November 2023

Have faith, children. You see Me as speaking many Words but with little action. Look at the Words I have given to you. I say over and over to die to self and trust in Me, your God. If you do as I say, you will begin to see as the scales fall from your eyes; you will see how many of My Words have been fulfilled; you will see this world changing in ways that are controlled by My Spirit.

Have faith and come walk with Me so that I can show you what is happening around you. Believe, children, for already many Words have been fulfilled and many more are being fulfilled as time goes by. Trust Me, children, and come follow Me.

I Love you.

Sunday 26 November 2023

Believe in My Words of Truth and prepare, children of Mine. I am about to change this world and you will see My Houses of Prayer, all over this world, begin to shine with My Truth.

I have told you I would not leave you orphans and so, I prepare My Houses for the 'Day of Wonder' as this world begins to believe, once again, that they have a real God, a God of Power.

Trust Me, children, and begin this Journey by removing the sin from your lives; the more you remove, the more you will see and understand what is happening in this world. Trust Me and prepare while you still have time.

Trust Me, children.

I Love you.

Tuesday 28 November 2023

Children, have faith in Me, your God. I do not lead you astray but I lead you to the Kingdom of your Father in Heaven. I have told you sin is what will block you from entering Heaven. Repent, now, of your sin and remove it from your lives and Heaven will be your reward.

Trust Me, children. Try to walk the narrow Path. I will help you and this world will see My Help in you and they, too, will follow.

Trust Me and believe.

I Love you.

Wednesday 29 November 2023

My children, look at My Words, I show you a Path. I tell you what will happen because of mankind's sin. I tell you how I will Save My remnant and I tell you of the Peace to come but, children, I now tell you: My Power shall walk this earth and My lost sheep shall see and recognise the Work of their God and many, many, shall return. I will not stop until I have gathered all My lost sheep and then I will put an end to this evil generation that pollutes My Creation. I shall cast them all into the fire and no more shall they stain My Creation. I call upon you, children, to make ready, to become the vessels of My Love. We have much Work to do. I have prepared Prophets in every country of this world to guide My remnant to safe refuge. Prepare, children, and prepare My Houses. It has begun.

I Love you.

Wednesday 29 November 2023

Have faith, children of Mine, and prepare for the Coming of My Spirit for He shall gather My remnant from the four corners of this earth; they shall be gathered together as one in My Heart and I shall rejoice in My children and they shall rejoice in Me.

Make sure you are part of this, children, and do not reject the Coming of the Truth. It shall be spread through every country of this world in order to call the lost sheep back to the safety of My Fold.

Prepare, children, for, soon, you shall see the Power of your God at work on this earth as I call My people back through My chosen.

Trust Me, children, and believe.

I Love you.

THE HOUSES OF PRAYER

Virgin Most Pure House of Prayer, Slovenia

A Lei of Roses

On Tuesday 20 November 2007, Jesus gave a Message asking for a House of Prayer in Slovenia. "...I ask of you to look for My Houses, they have not stopped. Much confusion is over this. Because you have procured one House does not mean that it is over. As many monasteries and convents have closed, so I am calling you to open them. Let My Words spread in every language for they are the Songs of the Soul that calls forth the part of the man that is Me. Look for My next House for the poor get poorer and the unspiritual get more unspiritual. Look in Slovenia where I have told you to look. Go there if you must. Do not worry of the money for My children will listen to My Voice; they know when I need them to act..."

Following this Message, Patrick, along with some servants, went to Slovenia to look at houses they had previously researched on the internet. While there, Jesus spoke again.

"...My servant, all is well. This country that you are in is beautiful for I have created it so. It is a part of a much larger piece but it is not like that now. My House is dedicated to My Mother and is a lei of roses for Her to wear. It is given so that much prayer can come from here against the reign of communism. It is surrounded by much of this. This small country is at the heart of what you call Europe and I use it to further My Kingdom into the darkness that this country has known (Europe).

My House is here. The name of it is "Virgin Most Pure" as I have told you.¹ Continue searching, it is what I wish of you. I Love you all." Monday 3 December 2007, Tolmin, Slovenia

¹ As we were driving to purchase this House in 2007, we drove through Germany. It was a Sunday morning and, near the border, we looked for a church to get Mass. We found one and during the Mass, Jesus gave the House of Prayer in Slovenia its name and He said 'Virgin Most Pure' and so it was dedicated to Our Lady.

They looked at three houses and coming up to the second one Patrick had a very strong feeling about it. He was surprised by this as normally the feelings do not come until he is inside the door. After seeing the House he knew it was the one Jesus wanted.

"...I Love you, My servant, and I thank you for taking My Words to the world. Soon, Slovenia – that little jewel – will be another stepping stone across the mire that is Europe. My children, do not be blind, see at last what is happening all around you. I Love you and I need your hands, your feet, your lips. I Am is calling you..." Friday 1 February 2008, Saint Brigid's Day

The House was signed for in early 2008.

A little history

The House is on top of a mountain, in a rural area and, among other things, was a shop for the village of Dole. It was used as a type of co-op and downstairs, below in the cellar, in one of the rooms in the basement floor was a milk collection room.

When Slovenia was part of the old Yugoslavia, this House was a type of social hall and many things went on in it. It had been a meeting place for communists and socialists.

At a time, this House was also the primary school for children in the area.

First thing that Jesus asked for

When we went into the House, the first thing that Jesus asked for was the Prayer Room to be set up. In the room that He chose, we put an altar and whatever holy pictures we had with us on the walls.

After a while, some of the locals came to meet us and we showed them, amid language difficulties, what we intended to do with the House. When they entered the Prayer Room, they could not believe their eyes, because that room, unknown to us, turned out to be the meeting place for the communists and socialists and they were able to tell us that not so many years ago, pictures of Lennon, Marx, and Tito had graced the walls and now it was pictures of Jesus and Mary! So Jesus knew which room to pick so He could do what He needed to do there.

Work needing done

Again, there was a flat made on the middle floor and the rest of the House was left to be neglected. We are currently trying, as best we can, to put the kitchen, living room etc. on the ground floor.

This House needs a kitchen, a roof and heating throughout. The heating system will have to start from scratch as we cannot use what is already there because it is so old.

The plaster on the outside of the House needs replaced and the steps all need reconcreted. The cellar backs out onto a lower road and the doors there, having been so rotten that they let the cold of the winter into the House, have been replaced in an attempt to secure the House.

While the House has new windows, it badly, badly needs a new roof.

AS IT STANDS - AN UPDATE

In November 2023, we received news that part of the roof had blown off during the storms they were having in Slovenia. The crew from the local fire station, across the way from the House, very kindly did a patch job on the roof to stop all the rain etc from getting in. However, only a few days later, there was another storm and more of the roof was blown off. The firefighters again came to our aid and did a temporary job in sealing the roof. We really need to get over there to get it fixed properly. The roof is due to be fixed in December, please pray for this.

CHRISTMAS- A JOYOUS TIME?

The following article was written for our November 1999 Newsletter. It can also be found in Message Book 6. We are printing it again in this Newsletter because it is a good reminder to us all to be love, at all times, especially at Christmastime.

CHRISTMAS A JOYOUS TIME?

To bring Truth is the Command given to us by Jesus and this is the Truth that we bring to you who would read what we say. The Truth about Christmas is somewhat lost in the annals of human thinking and blindness, lack of thought and lack of reaching out with love. Christmas has become - for many - a time of hell and a time when they learn to hate God: a time when inner suffering becomes the reality that digests all but itself. Christmas - to them - is an abrupt mercenary that tears at the Love of God within them and renders it useless. Christmas - for some - is a time to hate and not to love: it is a time of getting all that you can grab and not a time for sharing, a time for getting nothing and giving nothing. Christmas is a time when we allow the media and the world to dictate to us the meaning of Christmas. Our children are allowed to demand of us presents — prompted by the world — that bring us and them further from God.

Why has it become so?

Lack of love and sharing

For me, Christmas is sometimes like that. As I write this article the memories flood back like unwelcome guests to invade what peace I have found. They come to threaten the Love of God within me with accusations that my happiness at this time of year is false. And it is false, for I am one of those whom I accuse of falsifying Christmas by my lack of love and sharing towards others. I am one of those who, at Christmas, feel that I deserve to enjoy it even though others do not.

As a child, Christmas was a time of continual rowing between my parents. My father was permanently drunk and inevitably waiting for any opportunity to start another row. At some stage on Christmas Eve Night our Christmas tree ended up in a sorry heap in the corner, amid many curses and fists flying to give the usual gifts of black eyes and bloodied noses.

Doors would be closed to us

Christmas Day was no exception for the prepared dinner was fed to the ceilings or the walls and we children went hungry. Then came the proverbial Christmas exodus. My father would put my mother and us children out of the house. We became adept at finding places to shelter. We had “just in case” places and things to help us when this happened. And so we spent our Christmas either walking the streets at night or holed up in a hiding place out of my father’s reach. This went on until about 4:00 am, when he would fall asleep. Many people knew our predicament but these same doors would be closed to us when we needed help or a place of shelter or a meal. We could not be allowed to break into their enjoyment for Christmas is a time to enjoy yourself and maybe our misery would have marred their happiness. I do not blame them because I learned a valuable lesson from them. I learned to be compassionate and I felt that when I grew up, if they ever needed any of those things then my door would always be open. This was the reality of my Christmas for the years of my childhood.

How many of you who read this can identify with this story? Hundreds, perhaps thousands. This was the reality that I thought was only mine and I selfishly clung to it and it gave me the excuse to believe that God didn’t want me in His life and I certainly did not want Him. All I saw was that He did not help me in these times in my life. But I was wrong.

Jesus was still there

Jesus did carry me, it was His people who were not there for me. They, like me, were the ones who selfishly believed that Christmas is a time to be enjoyed even if there is suffering in the world. It was His people who should have shown me that Jesus was still there, even if there was great suffering in my life. Picture the scene of a happy family sitting around a table eating Christmas dinner, exchanging gifts and love. The perfect Christmas. The hard reality is that many have no dinner, no home, no parents and no love. They have no chance to love Jesus in that happy scene. They have no chance to learn because there is no one to show them. They do not know the Love of God because the people of God have been caught up in the dictates of the world and have forgotten the Gospel values and left aside the Love that Jesus came to testify to the world.

Starving, suffering and grieving

We, the two Patricks, believe that if there is a Truth to be pointed out at this time then it is this: the reality of Christmas is a lie. The people of Jesus with His Love would not sit down for a meal at Christmas when they knew that others were starving, suffering and grieving. The people of Jesus have as their very inner hearts the Master's command: "...Love one another as I have Loved you..." Their very breath is Jesus and there is no bounds to their love, there is no fear. There is only love. Look at grief. Grief over the death of a loved one is a reality to those who experience it. Christmastime is a time that people remember their dead ones. It is the time when the bite of death hits hard. Many feel the bite and cannot talk or cry about it because no one wants to know, no one wants to listen to the pain inside that fights to be listened to.

Christmas is a lie

The reality of Christmas is a lie because the people of Jesus think of no one but themselves and their happiness, ourselves included. Jesus came into this world to be a Light in the darkness. He came to teach the Truth about man's selfishness. He came to tell us the Truth to our faces, with no holds barred. The Truth is that while we followers of Jesus close our doors to the suffering of the world, especially at Christmas, then we make Jesus out to be a lie. The non-believers in this world know what Jesus has said. Do they not throw this in our faces when we are confronted by them: "...Why is there suffering in the world if God is so full of Love?..."

The reason, I'm ashamed to say, that there is little love in this world is because I, a follower of Jesus, do not show it. I do not give up my Christmas dinner to let someone else have a meal; or give up my home to someone who has no home; or give the love that I lavish upon those closest to me to someone who has no love. The Words of Jesus should ring like the bells of a Church within us, at a deafening pitch:

"...I was hungry and you gave Me food, I was thirsty and you gave Me drink, I was a stranger and you made Me welcome, lacking clothes and you clothed Me, sick and you visited Me, in prison and you came to see Me..."

Let it be real

This is the real Truth of Christmas for it is then that we can sing to the glory of God with the Angels that Jesus is indeed born for us a Saviour: He is indeed a Light for all those in darkness; He is the Bread of Life come down from Heaven to feed the world.

Christmas is not about fear, it is about Love. Many people are afraid and they do not know that Jesus has abolished fear. It is a terrible thought to think that a child may be in fear this Christmas; fear of getting hit or fear of not getting love. For Jesus' sake, show the world on Christmas Day this year that He is alive by doing something for those who may be in fear, or hungry, or in need. Let the world have a happy Christmas and let it be real.

Weekend with the Patricks

A BEAUTIFUL RETREAT

Jesus lavished us

The Weekend with the Patricks was a beautiful retreat where Jesus lavished us with so many Heavenly Gifts of Love, Peace, Joy and Knowledge.

Our friend in Jesus, Bernadette, was brought home to Heaven in her sleep on Saturday night. Jesus gave a Message telling her grieving sister, Margaret, that her loss was His gain. A sweeter way and place to die could never be had. With Bernadette's passing, a deep peace fell upon the Sacred Heart House of Prayer and silenced us. Patrick O'Kane didn't have to tell us how short our lives were. We could taste the truth of it.

The silence

I remember last year the irritating noise and the irrelevant questions after the Patricks read the Message on how we take the bits we want to hear out of the Messages and leave out the part about dying to self and thus we remain blind. This year I believe the silence that fell upon the House made our hearts more fertile. Time will tell if the Word will take root and spring to life in us.

I would often cringe at the thought of all the Houses of Prayer Jesus has asked for and often wondered why He wants so many since we can barely keep the Sacred Heart House of Prayer open with the few, aging servants and lack of new blood to the Way of the Sacred Heart. However, I came away from the Weekend feeling reassured that Jesus knows what He is doing. I don't know what He is doing but I have to trust Him. He has got this world in His Hands!

The ark Jesus builds

Things in the world are culminating with the wars and the never-ending provocations to divide and anger us. The Church is being poisoned from the top down and from the bottom up. The future looks bleak. Never did we need Houses of Prayer more than we do now. These refuges are the ark Jesus builds in the desert. I don't think there will ever be too many. They are children who need our love and support. Nothing is too much to give them.

“Listen, My children, to the cries of My Houses as they wait to bloom. They are the voices of children, crying out for their countries. They are appointed to be the sentinels of each country that they are founded in. But, they cry out for lack of use. Do not forget them. Go to them. They are My children and they are your children...” Wednesday 26 December 2007, Saint Stephen's Day

Thank You, Jesus, for this beautiful Weekend where You walked among us, may we make a return of Love to Your Most Generous, Sacred Heart.

GRAZING ON THE FRESHEST PASTURES

Food for our souls

At the Weekend with the Patricks, I felt like we were sheep, grazing on the freshest pastures that the Shepherd had led us to.

It was indeed food for our souls.

On the Saturday, we were surprised by the unexpected celebration of Holy Mass within the House. How beautiful it was. A priest who had been staying with a friend in Cookstown, offered to say Mass for us and, during that Mass, he prayed for our Anti Abortion March which was taking place at 3pm. It was like Jesus set a spiritual banquet before us to feast on.

The Houses of Prayer

In the evening, after the Walk Against Abortion, the Patricks spoke and shared the Message that Jesus had given.

The one thing that came across to me, very very much, was the importance of the Houses of Prayer. I began to realise that these are a real life-line for the people of the world today. I realised that by the Church, from the Pope down, changing the truth of sin, and not correcting sin but allowing it under the guise of compassion, that a spiritual massacre is taking place. All these people who may previously have been trying to die to their sin and their 'feelings' are now justified in living out their sinful lives by being told that the Church needs to change to become more compassionate. It is the fulfilment of the Garabandal Messages, Many priests are on the road to perdition and taking many souls with them.

You will never find anyone more compassionate than Jesus. The Truth is compassion, the Truth is Love. It is the Truth that leads people to safe pastures, to Heaven. Not a false love that tells you 'you can do whatever you want because God Loves us all'.

Keep the Truth safe

The Houses of Prayer are to keep the Truth safe until Jesus returns. We can never know their importance but we can see, by the Message that Jesus gave, that they are so important to Him. Why is this? The only thing that really matters to Jesus is that He gets all His children to Heaven. As I said, it is only the Truth that can do this. So, in my mind now, I see these Houses as the only places on earth where the Light of Truth can shine from now.

When we die

Another thing that stood out to me was that, on the Saturday night, Patricks spoke at length about death. They told us that it is so important to be humble and to die to ourselves while on earth for, when we die, we die as we are; in other words, if I die with anger or justification for my sin in my heart, then I carry that with me as I stand before Jesus at my death. They said, whatever you have done, just tell Jesus you are sorry, as you stand before Him and ask

Him to Forgive you. Don't argue or try to justify. Of course, in my mind anyway, this is something that I must practise here on earth for I know I can get angry and justify myself, even when I know I am wrong! The Patricks were telling us that we will all die and we do not know when we will be called home; that this life is so, so short and it is only a place to decide if we want to spend eternity in Heaven or hell. We decide this by the way we live our life.

I think this was particularly poignant because a lady retreatant actually passed away as she slept, in the Saint John of the Cross Accommodation that very night. For me, I feel joy for her, because of the Message Jesus gave the following day, I believe she went straight to Heaven.

As Jesus has said before, this life is but a heartbeat. Nothing really matters except what we do for Him.

WALK AGAINST ABORTION

The truth of abortion

During the Weekend with the Patricks we held a Walk Against Abortion around Cookstown. We displayed the Truth of abortion on our banners and placards, revealing the brutal death of Gods innocent babies who never had a voice and they were, and are not, given the chance to live.

We walked in silence expressing our mourning and grief at the loss of these beautiful babies murdered in abortion.

Helpless

As we were nearing to the House of Prayer, two lads were busking and in their singing, words drifted to my ears, 'I am helpless, helpless.' These words summed up one's anguish for the babies - they are so helpless in the their mother's wombs, helplessly fighting for their wee lives against their own mothers who are fighting to get rid of their own babies. Helpless against families and the system and even the Church. We, the Pro-Life groups, feel helpless even in the little bit that we try to do to protect these little ones from the brutal deaths at the hands of abortionists, who are supposed to be doctors that save lives, not end them.

Mother Teresa

and the mysticism of suffering

This intense suffering of hers

Mother Teresa was an ethnic Albanian nun born in modern day Macedonia. She is famous for her work with the poor in Calcutta, India and founding a religious order - The Missionaries of Charity. They take a 4th vow to serve the "poorest of the poor", and are spread throughout the world running orphanages, homeless shelters, women's refuges or going into the streets to feed the homeless.

What is lesser known about St Mother Teresa, is the intense inner suffering she struggled with for many years. She experienced the Dark Night of the Soul, where she did not feel any consolation or love of God within her, she often felt the absence of God. This intense suffering of hers was essential to her own mysticism of serving Jesus in the poor, and manifesting the love of God to others - even when she herself could not feel it.

See Jesus in every person

As a nun and a saint, her strength always came from prayer and the Eucharist. All her nuns have adoration twice a day, so that all their missionary charitable work flows from Jesus and back to Jesus. By spending time in Adoration in front of Jesus in the Blessed Sacrament this teaches them the eyes of faith, so that they can also learn to see Jesus in every person they serve. This contemplative understanding of serving and loving Jesus in others, was a unique aspect of Mother Teresa's spirituality.

This intense love of Jesus

The Incarnational dimension of Mother Teresa's spirituality, serving Jesus in the poorest of the poor, is founded upon the Presence of Jesus in the Eucharist. God became man out of love for us, died on the cross for love of us - and remains in the Eucharist for love of us. This love of Jesus for us is not static or in the past, it is alive and dynamic. The love we receive from Jesus himself in the Eucharist is the same love we need to reflect and radiate to all around us, sharing with them the love that Jesus has for them.

This intense love of Jesus is emphasised in the chapels of the Order, where they have the words written on the wall "I thirst" next to the crucifix. Mother Teresa taught that Jesus' thirst on the cross was not for water, but for souls. He was thirsting for you and me, to love him as he loves us, and to help satiate his thirst by bringing others to him in love.

She felt empty

Many of us would think that someone who so often preached the value of a smile, who spent years working with the poor, loving Jesus in the Blessed Sacrament and a woman of intense prayer would have been bursting with the love of God inside her. Yet she only experienced darkness within herself. She felt empty and like she was in hell, with no love.

She chose to smile to others

Yet even with this suffering, she chose to remain faithful to the calling she felt God had given her. She still chose to get up and pray everyday, she chose to love God even when she felt she had no love, she chose to smile to others and help them feel loved - even when she didn't feel she was. This intense suffering and desolation was part of her mysticism of suffering. She said that suffering itself was Jesus coming so close to you as to kiss you!

So many of us confuse love with a feeling or emotion. But in Catholic theology, love is an action of the will - we choose to will the good of another, this is what it means to love.

When someone is mean or rude to you, but you still treat them kindly

- this is charity.

When someone doesn't deserve your forgiveness, but you still choose to forgive them anyway - this is charity.

When someone lies about you or persecuted you, but you still don't retaliate and even try to help them when they need help - this is charity.

When you feel dead on the inside and exist on darkness, but smile to all you meet and make them feel that they are precious - this is charity.

Agape

Charity is love, but not romantic or erotic love. It is self sacrificing love, agape. As Mother Teresa used to say, love until it hurts - then love some more. For love to be real, it must hurt, it has to be sacrificial and therefore it is heroic. Charity makes us share in the love of Christ himself on the cross for us and in the Eucharist for us, so that we can learn how to love more tenderly.

Even when we don't feel like it

Only someone who truly loved Jesus could have done the things that Mother Teresa did for so many years. This was her mysticism of suffering - she was united to God precisely through the absence of feeling his love. But she still willed to love God anyway, she chose it.

This is something I have found to be true on my own life - love is a choice. We have to choose to follow God and be kind to others even when we don't feel like it. We have to choose to remain faithful to the Gospel even when it hurts or we feel overcome by our own weakness and inadequateness. We have to choose to shine the light of Christ to others, even when we ourselves feel we are in darkness. We have to choose to pray, even when we feel it is empty or a waste of time.

Love is a choice, let us never forget this. Choose love today. Choose Jesus, because he has chosen you so that he can love others through you.

The Immaculate Conception

Conceived without sin

I was listening to a Youtube video "The Truth About Brain Death and Organ Donation, with Paul Byrne MD 9-25-17" and I loved his thoughts on the Immaculate Conception and Assumption of the Blessed Virgin Mary and I would like to share them with you. This was what he said at about an hour in:

"...about the Immaculate Conception... Mary was conceived without sin.

...From a biological point of view, Mary had to be conceived without sin because Mary was going to provide the egg for the Incarnation of Christ and that egg had to be pure.

...All of us are born with sin and then we get baptized and get rid of that but they could not wait for Mary to be baptized, She had to be conceived without sin because a girl has all of her eggs by about six months after conception. Before a girl is born, she has all of her eggs that she will ever have in her whole life. And then when she reaches puberty, one egg a month ripens...

So Mary had to be conceived without sin, so that She would have a pure egg for the Incarnation of Christ. And, of course, ...God knew all of this...when He created the world and when He created Adam and Eve, He knew He was going to have to have Mary...

So it's not that Mary conceived without sin because of what biology finds out years later, it just confirms that.

...Another little part about Mary...about the assumption: ...when a baby is inside of his or her mother, we said that the circulation and everything was separate. Well what's happened in the transplantation industry is that they looked at the liver and make slides of it and here's this female, this lady that they have, they're studying her liver and there's a male cell and there's another male cell. Where did those male cells come from? They came because she had a boy baby and our techniques allow us to identify male cells amongst female cells. And so, every mother who's had a baby, she has some cells from her baby and every mother has given some of her cells to her baby.

So, you see, Mary gave some of Her cells to Jesus and so Jesus gave some of His Cells to Mary and yes, Jesus ascends into Heaven and Mary is left on earth but all of Jesus needs to get into Heaven, so Mary had to be assumed into Heaven so that all of Jesus is there. ...It's not the Church Teaching, it's Paul Byrne just putting his little knowledge about but the few little things that we learn about life ...

The things that I've told you about, the cells, that is science... As scientists, we discover what God has done..."

John Paul II

APOSTOLIC LETTER: NOVO MILLENNIO INEUNTE Of his Holiness Pope John Paul II to the bishops, clergy and lay faithful at the close of the Great Jubilee of the year 2000

18. The Gospels do not claim to be a complete biography of Jesus in accordance with the canons of modern historical science. From them, nevertheless, the face of the Nazarene emerges with a solid historical foundation. The Evangelists took pains to represent him on the basis of trustworthy testimonies which they gathered (cf. Lk 1:3) and working with documents which were subjected to careful ecclesial scrutiny. It was on the basis of such first-hand testimony that, enlightened by the Holy Spirit's action, they learnt the humanly perplexing fact of Jesus' virginal birth from Mary, wife of Joseph. From those who had known him during the almost thirty years spent in Nazareth (cf. Lk 3:23) they collected facts about the life of "the carpenter's son" (Mt 13:55) who was himself a "carpenter" and whose place within the context of his larger family was well established (cf. Mk 6:3). They recorded his religious fervour, which prompted him to make annual pilgrimages to the Temple in Jerusalem with his family (cf. Lk 2:41), and made him a regular visitor to the synagogue of his own town (cf. Lk 4:16).

Without being complete and detailed, the reports of his public ministry become much fuller, starting at the moment of the young Galilean's baptism by John the Baptist in the Jordan. Strengthened by the witness from on high and aware of being the "beloved son" (Lk 3:22), he begins his preaching of the coming of the Kingdom of God, and explains its demands and its power by words and signs of grace and mercy. The Gospels present him to us as one who travels through towns and villages, accompanied by twelve Apostles whom he has chosen (cf. Mk 3:13-19), by a group of women who assist them (cf. Lk 8:2-3), by crowds that seek him out and follow him, by the sick who cry out for his healing power, by people who listen to him with varying degrees of acceptance of his words.

The Gospel narrative then converges on the growing tension which develops between Jesus and the dominant groups in the religious society of his time, until the final crisis with its dramatic climax on Golgotha. This is the hour of darkness, which is followed by a new, radiant and definitive dawn. The Gospel accounts conclude, in fact, by showing the Nazarene victorious over death. They point to the empty tomb and follow him in the cycle of apparitions in which the disciples — at first perplexed and bewildered, then filled with unspeakable joy — experience his living and glorious presence. From him they receive the gift of the Spirit (cf. Jn 20:22) and the command to proclaim the Gospel to "all nations" (Mt 28:19).

The life of faith

19. "The disciples were glad when they saw the Lord" (Jn 20:20). The face which the Apostles contemplated after the Resurrection was the same face of the Jesus with whom they had lived for almost three years, and who now convinced them of the astonishing truth of his new life by showing them "his hands and his side" (ibid.). Of course it was not easy to believe. The disciples on their way to Emmaus believed only after a long spiritual journey (cf. Lk 24:13-35). The Apostle Thomas believed only after verifying for himself the marvellous event (cf. Jn 20:24-29). In fact, regardless of how much his body was seen or touched, only faith could fully enter the mystery of that face. This was an experience which the disciples must have already had during the historical life of Christ, in the questions which came to their minds whenever they felt challenged by his actions and his words. One can never really reach Jesus except by the path of faith, on a journey of which the stages seem to be indicated to us by the Gospel itself in the well known scene at Caesarea Philippi (cf. Mt 16:13-20). Engaging in a kind of first evaluation of his mission, Jesus asks his disciples what "people" think of him, and they answer him: "Some say John the Baptist, others say Elijah, and others Jeremiah or one of the prophets" (Mt 16:14). A lofty response to be sure, but still a long way — by far — from the truth. The crowds are able to sense a definitely exceptional religious dimension to this rabbi who speaks in such a spellbinding way, but they are not able to put him above those men of God who had distinguished the history of Israel. Jesus is really far different! It is precisely this further step of awareness, concerning as it does the deeper level of his being, which he expects from those who are close to him: "But who do you say that I am?" (Mt 16:15). Only the faith proclaimed by Peter, and with him by the Church in every age, truly goes to the heart, and touches the depth of the mystery: "You are the Christ, the Son of the living God" (Mt 16:16).

Song of the Carpenter

The following is a serialisation of the 'Song of the Carpenter,' a novel inspired by Jesus and written down by the two Patricks. It is about the Life of Jesus and is full of spiritual teachings as well as a simply fantastic read.

If you cannot wait to read it all, then you can order it from the Sacred Heart House of Prayer. It costs £6.99.

By the time she reached the house, they were falling on her, hundreds of the insects falling out of the sky. Like rain they fell, landing on everything that was available; that was green. She could feel their bony bodies cling to her skin.

Millions of whirring wings made a noise like many, many stones falling on a metal surface and was almost deafening. Mary had to shout at Joseph through the din, "Where is Jesus?"

"He is safe I have covered him and closed the door. They will not get near him," Joseph said and she was satisfied. She lifted a threshing fork and began to beat the insects that had invaded them like unwelcome guests. Joseph took the broom and joined her.

They beat and flailed the locusts to kill them to stop them devouring their precious crop; a crop that they had worked hard for, that they needed to survive until the following year. This was a fight against starvation; they're own or the locusts. They fought for their livelihood and they prayed that something might be left for the locust always won.

As Mary flailed, the awareness began to dawn. She stopped. The insects continued to buzz and whirr around her but they did not eat her crops. They were not eating them.

"Joseph, Joseph, look".

The man stopped and he, too realised that the insects were not eating, devouring their precious plants. They were simply resting.

"Mary, this is God. He is protecting us. Come; let us go to the child. Let God do his work, He does not need us to help him for he has tamed even the wild beast."

They fought their way through the throng of insects and entered their home.

The people of the Delta did not fare so well. Their god, Hapi, did not save them. The terror from the sky devoured everything that was edible and moved on to find more. The people of the Delta wept and mourned and wondered what they had done to deserve such devastation.

Absalom and his wife Shelomith were looking at the damage all around them. His wife was weeping. The once beautiful fields that had boasted their greenness to the sky were no more. The myrtle tree that had shaded them from the sun was bare. All was naked and Absalom felt the shame. It was good for him that he was so wealthy, others that were not so well off would be feeling the devastation. He thought of Joseph and Mary and their little plot of land. They would be in dire straits for their lives had just begun and they would have nowhere to turn to. This disaster would mean starvation for them. He liked the couple. They were honest and hardworking. They had approached him with sincerity in asking for a small piece of land and he had given it to them. He would have let them have more but they had insisted that they only rent out what they could afford. Their dreams would be dashed now. He would go to them now. He called his servant and asked him to make ready the Arabian horse. He bid his servants to follow him on the slower donkeys that would be laden with food. He galloped away from his home towards the flat plain.

Approaching the rented land of the couple, Absalom, suddenly tugged on the reins to brake the horse. The animal had to turn sideways to stop under the force. The man could not believe his eyes. There, in the midst of the devastation and carnage left in the wake of the locusts, was an oasis, growing happily in the sun. Its fertility struck him like a slap and he slowly walked the horse towards the house. He could see the vines covering the doorway in abundance, the lattice straining under the weight of the produce and the fields behind the house. Golden millet stirred in the small plot gracefully in a stray breeze. He could see the green of the onion leaves. It was like a dream. "Joseph" he called. "Come out, my friend and tell me what has happened here." Joseph appeared through the vine leaves that were threatening to take over the whole doorway. He had to bend his head to get under it, its verdant life starkly contrasting the bare land all around. "What has happened here, Joseph?" Absalom said, his hands outstretched and eyes wide with disbelief.

Joseph shrugged his shoulders, "Nothing has happened here, Absalom."

"I can see that, Joseph. Why has nothing happened here?"

"We prayed while the locusts were here and they did not eat the crops. They seemed to rest on them for a while but they ate nothing. Then they rose into the air and were gone save the ones that we killed before we realised what was happening."

"It's a miracle, Joseph and Mary". Mary had come out onto the porch and was now standing beside her husband, holding her son. The boy was smiling. "Every home in the Delta has been wiped out by the locusts and yours..yours is a haven of green. I came over to feed you. Even now, my servants are on their way with food." The older man began to laugh. When he had stopped he said, "Why is God so good to you?"

The Plight of Others

CHILDREN AND VACCINES

We know, particularly during the Covid pandemic, that vaccines, which were largely untested, were pushed on everyone, especially the elderly, and even on children. We were told lies of how these ill gotten vaccines would protect us and many believed the lies and yet others were literally forced to take the vaccines.

We came across the following article by Louis Knuffke, and thought it made some good but concerning points.

Israeli boy featured in COVID vaccine campaign dies of heart attack at age 8

Louis Knuffke, Fri Oct 13, 2023

JERUSALEM, Israel

(LifeSiteNews)

An Israeli boy featured in a video used to push COVID vaccines on children in a nationwide campaign died tragically from a sudden heart attack in late September. The boy was only 8 years old.

According to reports, Yonatan Moshe Erlichman, grandson of a distinguished physician in Beit El, Dr. Mati Erlichman, “died unexpectedly of cardiac arrest while taking a bath.”

The 8-year-old boy is said to have “slipped under the water after his heart suddenly stopped beating, causing him to drown.” After being rushed to Hadassah Hospital on Mount Scopus, Yonatan died a few days later on September 28.

A poster child

In 2020, at the age of 5, the child had appeared in a video produced by the regional council of Mateh Binyamin. The video was part of a government program aimed at pushing COVID vaccines on children, despite the nearly universal immunity of children to COVID-19.

The video made Yonatan a “poster child” for the vaccine campaign in Israel, which became one of the most draconian nations in the world for vaccine measures. The video aired just before the nationwide vaccine campaign began.

After the boy’s tragic death, the Erlichman family issued the following statement:

Our Yonatan Moshe passed away recently. On the eve of Yom Kippur, Yonatan suffered a cardiac arrest in our home, and since then we have fought by his side after he collapsed. With love we thank all those who are dear to us and who were by our side in the last days of his life.

Lamenting the tragedy, one Israeli commentator on social media asked indignantly, “Where are the headlines? The investigations? How many more children will die on the golden altar? In particular, there are already two controlled studies indicating that mRNA vaccines cause heart problems ... Remember that at any given moment this can happen to your beloved children and grandchildren.”

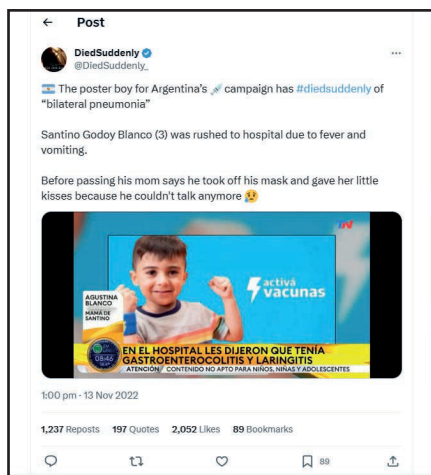

An Argentine boy

Last year, an Argentine boy who had similarly served as a national poster child in an ad pushing Covid vaccination for children died suddenly at age 4. According to reports, Santino Godoy Blanco was rushed to the hospital because of a fever and vomiting and died of “bilateral pneumonia.”

“Before passing his mom says he took off his mask and gave her little kisses because he couldn’t talk anymore,” one post on X stated.

The tragedy of the boy’s death is underscored by the fact that the Argentine government uses his photo on their website to still push the vaccination of children. The boy is pictured holding up his fist, with a slogan stating, “Vaccines protect us.”

1,000 or more excess deaths

Dr. Robert Malone, inventor of the mRNA technology employed by the Pfizer and Moderna vaccines, has said that inoculating 28 million children 5 to 11 years old could lead to “1,000 or more excess deaths” while the risk from COVID-19 for healthy children is “about zero” and appears to be lower than the seasonal flu.

Dr. Peter McCullough, MD, professor of medicine at Texas A&M University Health Sciences Center, called for an “unbreakable resistance” against children receiving the jab. In a 2021 lecture, McCullough cited numerous studies while arguing that “the chance of myocarditis, and hospitalization with myocarditis, for one of these children who is going to be forced into vaccination ... is greater than being hospitalized for COVID-19.” In an October 2021 article for the Brownstone Institute, Dr. Paul Elias Alexander, who served in the Department of Health and Human Services during the COVID-19 pandemic under the Trump administration, called the push to vaccinate young children “dangerous” and “absolutely reckless.”

“The risk-benefit discussion for children with these Covid-19 injections is a very different one than that for adults,” Dr. Alexander said. “The fact is that this is a completely novel and experimental injection therapy with no medium or long-term safety data (or even definitive effectiveness data). If we move forward with the vaccination of our children without the proper safety testing, then we will present them with potentially catastrophic risk, including deaths in some.”

Mock Adoration

In mock adoration

I was praying the Rosary the other day and on the third Sorrowful Mystery, 'The Crowning with Thorns' I read the following meditation:

'...when the soldiers, binding about His Head a crown of sharp thorns, showered blows upon it, driving the thorns deeply into His Head; then in mock adoration, knelt before Him, crying "Hail, King of the Jews!"'

As I thought about this, the words, 'in mock adoration!' Kept coming into my mind.

I started thinking of how Jesus was being mocked. Not just then but now also. I asked myself if my love and worship of Jesus was real or just a pretence?

Do we see Jesus

We may pray, go to Mass and Confession but how true is our worship of God? Do we (as it says in Scripture) worship Him with our lips when our hearts are far from Him?

Am I in mock adoration when I go to Confession and Mass but continue to commit the same sins when I go back into the world without making an effort to amend my life?

Do I look after myself but ignore those in need. Do we see Jesus in the homeless, the poor, the drug addict, those with mental health problems or do we look the other way?

Am I seen as a prayerful person at Mass and at prayer meetings but at home can be completely different, i.e judgemental, angry, resentful etc, etc. Do I show Jesus' Light in my life or is it a pretence?

See Me in the forgiveness

There are many questions we could ask ourselves to find out if our worship or adoration is true or if we are making a mockery of Jesus.

Jesus also gave us a meditation on the third sorrowful mystery of the Rosary:

'...see Me in the forgiveness of many. For all the peoples, My children, are the thorns that pierce My Head.'

And in Saint Alphonsus Ligouri's prayer after the stations of the Cross we pray 'through the pain You suffered in Your Sacred Head, when it was pierced with the thorns, give me Grace not to consent to the thoughts that are displeasing to You. '

This Advent

This Advent we could work hard on ourselves to make our adoration of Jesus real. We could offer our efforts as a gift to Jesus for His Birthday!

In last month's Newsletter an important message was included from 8 October 1999. Jesus asked us to receive Him in a state of Grace - and offering all days in between - on the consecutive Sundays in December for the Salvation of the world.

Examine ourselves

We could examine ourselves by reflecting on the seven deadly sins (pride, lust, anger, covetousness, envy, sloth and gluttony). We could work on these sins by practicing the opposing virtues; humility, chastity, charity, generosity, kindness, diligence and temperance. Or we could reflect on the Ten Commandments and apply them to our lives. Jesus said the Greatest Commandments were love of God and Love of our neighbour. We could also read Scripture and find out what True Love is. For example in Saint Paul's letter to the Corinthians he tells us:

Love is patient, love is kind. It does not envy, it does not boast, it is not proud. It does not dishonour others, it is not self-seeking, it is not easily angered, it keeps no record of wrongs. Love does not delight in evil but rejoices with the truth. It always protects, always trusts, always hopes, always perseveres.

Love never fails.

(St Paul's letter to the Corinthians 13; 4-8)

Whatever way we choose, let us bring our gifts of effort, self denial, sacrifice and love to worship in Truth our Saviour, this Christmas.

Letters to the HoP

Thanks to Jesus

Dear all at the House of Prayer,
...I'm not very good with words, being a Yorkshire lass, but I just want to thank everybody for making my stay so memorable.

This includes thanks to Jesus of course.

I've never experienced a true Christian Spirit before as it's not readily available. Hence my family's apprehension. I think now they believe me.

It's good to be able to put faces to names after so many years.

I really admire all the hard work all you servants do. I can't remember being so well looked after before.

I also found people in the airport
very helpful and friendly.

Hopefully I'll be back, not bringing superfluous things with me which will make it easier...

Thanks again and God Bless Patricia.

The Holy Oils

Dear Sir or Madam,
I received the Holy Oils from the Sacred Heart House of Prayer
a few years ago. In March this year, I had a stroke and it affected my eyes. They would not move up, down or sideways so I used the Oil as one of my eyes closed down and did not open till the end of August, which took the stroke consultant by surprise as he said it takes twelve months and more to show any improvement. The eye specialist in the hospital was also surprised and has allowed me to drive short journeys, at the minute, until they see me again in a couple of months time.

So I would be grateful to you if you could send me four bottles again, I have a cousin going through cancer treatment at the moment and I would like to get them some. Many thanks.

Brendan

Focused on Jesus

Dear people of the House of
Prayer,
I enclose a cheque as a donation for the expenses of the Houses of Prayer.

Thank you for the mags every month, very much. They keep me
focused on Jesus!

The mags are encouraging and news of all that is going on round the world too.

Prayers for all your wonderful work you are doing for Jesus.

Yours truly,
Margaret.

Don't Say No

Christmas ain't about the little ones
It ain't about the shopping time
It ain't about the raising of guns
If it's about Jesus, then Christmas is fine

Let it go, let it all go
All this putting on of the show
A peaceful time, don't say no
Reach out your hand don't say no

Don't say no to reaching out
That ain't what it's all about
Don't say no to giving all of you
Let what's inside of you come out

Don't say no
Don't say no
Don't say no to Jesus
Don't say no
Don't say no
Don't say no to Jesus

Jesus came to bring the light
Take your heart and do it right

Came to bring peace not to fight
In the darkness of that Christmas night

Jesus came, a little child
Came from Heaven meek and mild
For in Him there is no guile
You are His little child

Don't say no
Don't say no
Don't say no to Jesus
Don't say no
Don't say no
Don't say no to Jesus

Don't say no this Christmas
Get out and take your place
Among those who wanna change
Those who wanna share His Grace

Don't say no
Don't say no
Don't say no to Jesus
Don't say no
Don't say no
Don't say no to Jesus
